BRIBE OFFERED TO GET MONEY SAYS SENATOR

Bard Makes Charge Against Catholic Association Before Indian Affairs Committee.

INDIAN FUNDS USED FOR CHURCH SCHOOLS

California Senator Declares He Was Promised Certain Number of Districts by Representative of Schools if He'd Help Continue Contracts.

Washington, January 31.—Sensational disclosures in relation to the alleged use of Indian trust funds for the support of sectarian schools were made today by Senator Bard in a statement to the senate committee on Indian affairs.

In addition to the charge that Roman Catholic schools have received 98 per cent of the money expended under contracts made by the Indian commissioner, the senator said that he had been approached by a representative of a Catholic association with a promise of carrying a certain stated number of districts in California for him in return for his influence in bringing about a continuance of such favorable contracts.

The statement of Senator Bard created a stir in the committee and he was asked to give a detailed account of the transaction as well as any other matters relating to the use of trust funds for sectarian school purposes, on which he was informed. He filed with the committee a statement covering the conversation and also a list of the districts the Catholic association proposed to carry for him.

He then discussed the statement of S. M. Brosius, agent of the Indian Rights Association, and also quoted from a circular issued by M. K. Sniffen, secretary of the association, charging that the discrimination in favor of Roman Catholics was by direction of the president.

No More Money for Schools.
Senator Bard said he attached more importance to the act of June 7, 1897, which declared that it was the settled policy of the government to hereafter make no appropriation whatever for education in any sectarian school.

The senator stated that he had been informed that there was no record at the interior department of authority for the diversion of these trust funds to the support of Catholic missions, but he had the statement that it was done on an oral order, which agents of the Indian Rights Association allege to have been issued by the president.

The committee took the statement seriously, and it was the sentiment that at the next meeting an amendment would be offered to the Indian appropriation bill prohibiting in the future the use of the Indian trust funds in the manner charged. Senator Bard said he had been informed that a very small percentage of the Indians interested gave their consent to the application of their funds to the support of sectarian schools, and that a large majority of the Indians were communicants in the various Protestant churches located within the various reservations.

Sensor Bard's Statement.
Senator Bard addressed the committee after statements had been made by S. M. Brosius, agent of the Indian Rights Association, and Francis Leupp, commissioner of Indian affairs. The senator said he had been visited by Dr. E. L. Scharf, an agent for a Roman Catholic Mission Society, and asked to use his influence with republican members of congress looking to forwarding the interest of Catholics in getting a diversion of Indian trust funds for the support of Catholic schools on the reservation.

He quoted Dr. Scharf as saying that if the republicans would agree to bring about the desired legislation, the Catholics would see that twenty congressional districts in which the republicans were weak were carried for the party. Dr. Scharf was said to have given the name of the districts, together with the number of Catholic voters in each, and names of the priests who would look after the agreement and deliver the necessary votes to carry the districts.

HERO MET HIS DEATH, BUT PREVENTED WRECK.
MAYSVILLE, KY., January 31.—William H. Case, a civil war veteran died today from injuries received when he saved a Chesapeake and Ohio train from serious wreck by hauling a hand car partly off the track before the train struck it. He was crushed by the car, but the train would have gone over a high embankment if he had abandoned the hand car on the track.

Will Force Criminal Proceedings if Law of Land Is Not Obeyed.

PRESIDENT DETERMINED TO ENFORCE DECISION

Now That Supreme Court Has Upheld the Hands of the Administration, No Dallying Will Be Countenanced on Part of Magistrates.

Washington, January 31.—It can be said by authority that unless the corporations constituting the alleged "beef trust" shall heed the injunction made permanent by the decision of the supreme court of the United States yesterday, the government will institute proceedings against the individual members of the corporations to enforce the decision of the court.

The proceedings will be under the criminal law if such can be instituted. The minds of the president and members of his cabinet are made up fully on the question. They have determined that the "beef trust" shall obey the law, and now that the highest court in the land has upheld the hands of the administration, it is said they will permit no further "dilly dallying" with the subject.

Talked at Cabinet Meeting.
At today's cabinet meeting the president and Attorney General Moody shared in the congratulations of the members of the cabinet on the result of the "beef trust" case before the supreme court. The president, who made no attempt to conceal his satisfaction at the decision of the court, united with the members of the cabinet in congratulating the attorney general.

The subject was considered briefly at the meeting, but no definite conclusion was reached as to what action, if any, the government would take in the future, except the general determination to enforce the law as it has been construed by the supreme court. The president and the members of the cabinet regard the decision of the supreme court as a signal triumph of law as they have viewed it, and have carried it into effect absolutely.

Some departmental matters were considered at the meeting, the most important of which was the action of Postmaster General Wynne in notifying John G. Capers, republican national committeeman of South Carolina, that postmasters in that state will be dismissed from the service if in the future they pay the expenses of delegates to political conventions. The action of the postmaster general was approved by the president and the cabinet. In principle, the declaration of Mr. Wynne will apply to all other states where such methods are practiced. The decision of the postmaster general grew out of a complaint made to the postoffice department that it was a custom for postmasters in South Carolina to pay the railroad and other expenses of delegates to the political conventions. In the complaint two postmasters were named, C. J. Mulkey, of Westminster, and J. M. Stewart, of Lancaster, S. C.

It was alleged that they paid the expenses of certain delegates to the last republican state convention, and had requested other postmasters to contribute to the fund. An investigation was ordered by the department, the work of the inspectors developing the facts of the complaint. It was the determination of the postmaster general to order the dismissal of the postmasters, but on a showing made by Captain Capers, it was decided merely to notify the officials through him that the practice, if continued, would result in their dismissal.

MOTHER AND SON THINK MOTHER FILL SAME GRAVE

Mrs. Twitty and James Twitty Die Very Strangely.

Americus, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary Twitty and son, James Twitty, died last night and this afternoon mother and son were laid away together.

Circumstances attending their deaths induce the belief that powerful drugs probably had been taken, but whether with attempt at self-destruction is a subject of conjecture.

Both were found in the same room suffering from convulsions, and neither ever regained consciousness sufficiently to tell the story of their illness or possible attempt at self-destruction.

Additional Light on Case.
Further information tonight regarding the death of Mrs. Mary Twitty and James Twitty throws additional light upon the case. An attending physician thinks perhaps Mrs. Twitty's death resulted from shock and extreme old age, while her son died from apoplexy.

THE MATADORE!

IS IT THE FATAL BLOW?

HOCH TOO FAT AND HAPPY TO HAVE A HUNDRED WIVES

Alleged Bigamist and Wife Slayer Says He Is Neither Bluebeard Nor Mormon, Never Having Had Two Wives at Once.

NEW YORK, January 31.—Johann Hoch, of Chicago, who was arrested here last night charged with bigamy and wife abandonment after a search extending over the entire country, told the officials at police headquarters today that he is anxious to return to Chicago at once.

He wanted to face the charges in that city, he said, and has no intention of opposing extradition. Hoch was photographed for the Rogues' Gallery before being taken to court. When Hoch was arraigned in police court he was remanded back to police headquarters for forty-eight hours. As the prisoner was leaving the court room he said:

"Yes, I am the man wanted in Chicago, but they are mistaken as to the charges. I am wanted for some trouble I had with my sister in law about some furniture."

On his way from the court Hoch said to the detectives:

"I am the Hoch the Chicago police think they want, but they are wrong. There are lots of Hochs besides me. The story that I am a 'Bluebeard' is all foolishness. I'll make somebody feel cheap when I get back to Chicago and prove I'm innocent."

Some one asked if Hoch meant two at one time. Hoch laughed good-naturedly. "Do you think I'm a Mormon?" he asked. "I know the stories. But look at me. Would I be fat and happy if I had had a hundred wives?"

He was then asked why he had taken the name of Bartels when he came to New York.

"I expected there would be trouble about $2,000 worth of furniture Mary left when she died," he said. "Her sister wanted more of it than was her share. When I was arrested here I thought it was on account of that furniture."

Relative to the stories that Hoch was thought to have once worked for Holmes, who operated in Chicago during the world's fair and killed dozens of people to collect their life insurance, Hoch said:

"I never saw Holmes. He was a chemist. I'm a machinist. I never did any work for him. I've read about him. I've seen it printed that I was his banker. It may have been a man who looked like me and if his name was Hoch, that's nothing. There are lots of Hochs."

He said he had no wife at present.

ODD CHARACTER GOES TO BEYOND

M. J. Mabre, Pioneer Citizen, Yields To Death, Aged 79.

The Deceased Led the Life of a Hermit, and Many Strange Things Are Told of Him—No Services Permitted at His Funeral.

M. J. Mabre, who died Monday at the age of 79 years at his residence, 76 Park avenue, in addition to being one of the pioneer citizens of Atlanta, was one of the queerest characters who ever resided in this city.

It was his dying request that the ministrations of the church be denied him during his last hours and that his body be interred without invocations, without the presence of a minister and without funeral services of any kind.

The old gentleman lived almost a hermit's life. When he moved into the neighborhood in which he died he let his neighbors understand that he did not desire them to call upon him. Most of the time he kept his front gate locked to prevent them from entering, and he never called upon them. During the latter years of his life he mowed some what and would give a nod of greeting to some of those who passed by. In all sorts of weather, hot or cold, the old gentleman was either leaning over the fence of his front yard or pacing the pavement in front of his home.

Wouldn't Let the Birds Drink.
Some time ago Mr. Mabre discovered that the birds were drinking water from the well in his back yard. This worried him. He fixed the bucket on his well so as to prevent the birds from quenching their thirst.

Although reports say that Mr. Mabre was an infidel, this was denied by the few who knew him. Certain it is that he would never permit a minister to enter his door. Once a minister of his neighborhood called. The old gentleman slammed the door in the face of the man of the cloth.

Mr. Mabre made much of his money in the saloon business. Before prohibition days in Atlanta he operated a saloon and it was a model place of business, and he would not permit them to stand around and talk after they had taken a drink.

When prohibition days began it was discovered that his was the only license which extended into prohibition times. He operated for six months in the city when it was dry and did a land office business. One of the wholesale liquor men of the city gave him a large sum for a half interest in the place.

Mr. Mabre had no intimates and openly told those who attempted to make his acquaintance that he did not care to become friendly with them. He was a queer old man and no one has ever been able to learn the reason for his apparent distrust of humanity.

TAX UNMARRIED MEN IN COUNTY OF AUTHOR.
NASHVILLE, TENN., January 31.—The lower house of the state legislature today passed the Rawls bill, taxing unmarried men, after it had been amended so as to apply only to Dyer, the home county of the author of the measure.

TALK OF CONSTITUTION WORSE THAN IDLENESS

Vladimir Declares To Grant Democracy to Russia Would Only Mean Anarchy—Says Reports Have Misrepresented Actions of Authorities.

St. Petersburg, February 1, 1:20 a. m.—Grand Duke Vladimir, uncle of Emperor Nicholas, and commander of the imperial guard, granted an interview at the duke's palace in Quay de la Cour, adjoining the winter palace. The correspondent was received in the grand duke's private study.

The grand duke is a man of perhaps sixty-five years, a veteran in appearance, as well as in fact, for he won his spurs and the Cross of St. George twenty-five years ago in the plains before Plevna. He is big-framed and dark-visaged and has iron gray hair, and resembles more his brother, Alexander III, than his nephew, Emperor Nicholas. Although his face and frame show marks of recent illness, the nervous energy he displays gives the impression of a man of force and action.

"You must remember," said the grand duke in French, "you must remember I am a grand duke and a subject of the emperor. As such, I am extremely loyal to him, and I am Russian from the crown of my head to the tip of my toes," accompanying the words with a sweeping gesture. "What information can I give you?"

"The newspapers abroad," suggested the correspondent, "have many statements regarding the events of January 22."

Had To Save City from Mob.
"I know," I have read accounts in the foreign press. I have started at night at the thought of the fate of the city of Moscow, innocent people which they have printed. I know they say well intentioned patriots with a priest at their head, coming peacefully to place their grievances before his majesty were ruthlessly shot down in the streets, but we know that behind this peaceful procession was an anarchistic and socialist plot of which the overwhelming majority of the workmen were merely innocent tools. We know from examination of the dead and those arrested that some alleged rebels were actually revolutionary agitators and students in disguise. We had to save the city from a mob. Unfortunately to do so innocent and guilty suffered alike. But suppose 140,000 men had reached the gates of the winter palace; they would have sacked it as the mob sacked Versailles. From the palace they would have gone to the city and the city would have been delivered over to anarchy, riot, bloodshed and flames. Our duty was the duty of every government."

"The same situation has confronted cities in other countries. Why, because this occurred in Russia, should the whole world police the streets and watch us? In the midst of our difficulties, why should we be turned upon? Why should America, especially, misinterpret and think ill of us? We have always been friends—friends of a century, friends of the world. America has been our friend, our ally, our protector. We are not enemies. Why has all this changed? What has Russia done to deserve it? What has Russia done to America? Why should the foreign press, especially that of Great Britain, not hesitate before an inquiry? No invention seems so horrible for them to print. They do not explain that on Saturday every dead wall in St. Petersburg was placarded with warnings to the people not to assemble. No; but they tell that thousands of innocent people were killed and other thousands wounded and that the streets are running red with blood. They even say the dead were pushed under the ice of the Neva at night. It is infamous."

Only One Side Told.
They say nothing of isolated officers set upon by mobs in the streets and hammered into insensibility or of policemen killed or wounded. As a matter of fact complete statistics have not yet been made. Several hundred were wounded. I can't give the precise figure of the wounded, but you shall have an opportunity to see the full reports."

"They say that Gorky will be hanged," suggested the correspondent.

"Nonsense," replied the grand duke. "It is asserted that some of the troops refused to obey commands," was the next suggestion.

"There is no question of the loyalty of the troops," asserted the grand duke. "Might I ask your opinion of the present situation?" said the correspondent.

"With this unhappy war upon our shoulders," said the grand duke, "we are passing through a crisis. In the interior there are many elements of discord, but the situation is not so bad as it is painted. The disorders at Warsaw, Kiev and elsewhere are largely industrial, produced by trade depression and

Innocent Girl Shot Down at Meeting of Strikers in St. Petersburg.

MANY KILLED AND HURT IN WARSAW ENCOUNTERS

Situation Is Worse Than Ever, Strike Being Almost Universal—Chief of Police Has Ordered All Doors Kept Closed and No Visiting Allowed.

St. Petersburg, January 31.—This evening the police surprised a meeting of strikers in a tavern and fired, killing a girl and wounding four other persons.

Warsaw, January 31.—Several persons were killed and many injured in encounters with the troops and police in various parts of this city yesterday.

The first aid society has suspended operations, telephonic communication is interrupted and the conditions throughout Warsaw are such that it has been impossible thus far to ascertain the number of victims.

By order of the chief of police the doors of houses are kept closed and are only opened to admit people living on the premises.

Two additional regiments of infantry and two regiments of dragons have arrived here.

St. Petersburg, January 31, 2:45 p. m.—The latest reports from Warsaw depict the situation throughout Poland as increasingly serious. Minor collisions between the troops and police and the populace continue to swell the number of dead.

Railroads and industries are completely at a standstill and the presence of thousands of idle workmen who have been out of employment for months, and are starving and desperate, adds a factor of the greatest danger which is not present to the same extent in St. Petersburg, where the government orders for bus purposes have kept the factories busy.

The American vice consul at Warsaw, Withold Fouchas, telegraphs that many stores, chiefly Russian, have been pillaged by mobs and that the factories, without exception, are closed. A general strike is in progress. Those who are not willing to walk out are compelled to join the strike by threats. Mr. Fouchas saw no improvement in the situation up to last night and reported the receipt of bad news from Lodz and Radom.

It is estimated that the number of killed or wounded at Warsaw is about 100, which is a conservative estimate.

Consequent lack of employment on account of the war. They are not revolutionary at base."

Constitution Means Ruin.
Then, without being asked, the grand duke went on:

"People speak of a constitution. A constitution would mean the end of Russia, as the state would be gone, anarchy would supervene and when it ended the empire would be disintegrated. Finland, Poland and perhaps other frontier provinces would have broken away. Russia is not ripe for a constitution. Go out among the peasants, who comprise the vast bulk of the empire's population, and try to explain to them government by suffrage. The peasant knows nothing of government; he does not even know what the word means. He knows his emperor."

For him the emperor is everything. Give the peasant a vote and all would be anarchy. Still there is necessity for reforms and they will be granted by the autocracy."

"Maintaining the principle of autocracy, then, the people will have an opportunity to be heard in the government?" questioned the correspondent.

"Yes," was the reply, "they can and I am sure will be given a voice. Of that I am certain," and he repeated the words emphatically, "I am certain," and continued even more deliberately, "they will be given the means of presenting their heads and grievances direct to the sovereign."

With the significant words, foreshadowing perhaps the immediate granting of something in the nature of the zemskyakoe (land parliament), the heir presumptive to the throne of the Romanoffs ended the interview.

ONDON, February 1.—The Daily Telegraph's Tokio correspondent says the Russian casualties in the engagements from January 25 to January 29 are now estimated at between 36,000 and 42,000, and those of the Japanese at 7,000.

DAUGHTER OF KING EDWARD UNDERGOES AN OPERATION

LONDON, January 31.—Princess Victoria, daughter of King Edward, underwent an operation for appendicitis at Buckingham palace this morning. The operation was performed by Sir Frederick Treves, surgeon in ordinary to the king. A bulletin subsequently issued says: "The circumstances of the operation were favorable. The princess bore it very well and is progressing very satisfactorily." The princess, who has been ill for some time, came to London January 27 to prepare for the operation. She was born in 1888.

THE PASSING THROG.

Hon. M. Newman, ordinary of Washington county, was in the city yesterday, having come up to arrange with Pension Commissioner Lindsey for the amount due pensioners in his home county. He departed last night with checks aggregating nearly $9,000.

Mr. Newman is the oldest ordinary in point of continuous service in the state of Georgia, having acted in that capacity for the past twenty-five years. He was a gallant Confederate veteran, having enlisted from Washington county, and served throughout the struggle. He is one of the most highly esteemed and generally beloved citizens of his section, and has so firm a hold on the sentiments of the people of his home county that no one can be found to run against him as long as he cares to hold the office.

"I was talking to Senator Dean, of St. Paul, Minn., here tonight," said Dr. Hubbard at the Piedmont, "and I was surprised to know the fame Georgia marble has attained. It was Senator Dean who introduced the bill in the state senate appropriating $4,000,000 for the purchase of Georgia marble to be used in the construction of the new state capital. That amount will almost cover the cost of the building, so you see that the new Minnesota state house will be practically a monument to the Georgia marble mines. How did it come about? That's the question I asked Senator Dean myself, and he informed me that he came to Georgia during one of the big expeditions to see and to study Georgia marble. He was impressed with its value as a building stone, and when the subject of a new state house came up in the Minnesota legislative body, he suggested that a committee be sent to this state to examine the mines. The suggestion was accepted by a vote of the body, and when that committee returned and made its report that report favored Georgia marble. It was then that Senator Dean introduced his bill, setting aside so much of the $4,000,000 to be used in the new state house for Georgia marble as would be necessary to buy the amount of stone necessary. Senator Dean is now in the south for pleasure and recreation, but during his stay he will visit some of the marble quarries and other industries of the state. He is very much impressed with the Empire State of the South."

"Do you know Atlanta is getting to be a great stop-over point for tourists from the east and the northwest to Florida?" said Dr. H. Y. Symes, of Fort Wayne, Ind., at the Aragon last night. "Well, it is, and every one who lays off here for even a short time is sure to send others to the city for a few hours at least. By visitors to Atlanta is generally considered a right big place, and a place of activity and business. It is a point full of historical interest, and here the days of Sherman and Johnston are brought fresh to mind again. Only a few years ago there were few, mighty few tourists who took time to drop off here. Now it's different, and there are few going south who care to run on through the city. Atlanta has grown immensely within the past few years, and its rapid and steady growth is known the country over. It is generally considered the most representative city in the Sickness rarely comes to homes that use Liquezone. And no one can keep well without it. Won't you try a bottle—free?

Liquezone is not only for sick people. Millions of well people use it to keep well. Nothing else in the world is so good for you—so vitalizing. Nothing else can ward off germ attacks. Every day in every family there is something for Liquezone to do. There is headache to be stopped by it, a cold to be warded off, a wound to be healed. Drinking water is purified by it, stomach and bowel troubles are instantly ended; languor is at once overcome. When you don't feel well, Liquezone will usually do more than anything else for you. And it will save nearly all of your sickness. For your own sake, let us show you what a constant, what a wonderful help it is.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquezone. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals. After proving, in thousands of difficult cases, that Liquezone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquezone has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor with alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from a naturally occurring gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetable, and Liquezone—like excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.

There lies the great value of Liquezone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

SLAV OFFICERS BEFORE COURT

Declare Torpedo Boats Attacked the Squadron.

No Oath Required of Commissioned Officers by Board Now Inquiring Into North Sea Affair. Russian Ships Had Lights Out.

Paris, January 31.—The Russian officers formerly with Vice Admiral Rojdestvensky's squadron began their testimony before the international commission inquiring into the North Sea incident today. A large crowd was present, and much interest was taken in the proceedings. No oath was required, the officers speaking on their honor.

Captain Wallerond, of the transport Kamchatka, testified that during the evening, while on the lookout for torpedo boats, he saw the outlines of a strange craft and heard shots. Thereupon he sent a wireless message to the flagship, saying:

"Torpedo boats following us." The flagship answered: "Report how many torpedo boats follow you."

Captain Wallerond answered: "We proceeded with lights extinguished. They attacked us from all sides at a distance about ten cable lengths."

The Kamchatka proceeded, but Captain Wallerond did not see any more strange craft, and did not hear any further shots.

Captain Clado, of the admiral's flagship gave a circumstantial recital of seeing two torpedo boats. He said:

"I first saw a strange craft through my night glass, and then the searchlights convinced us that it was a torpedo boat. At the same time the signal officer reported another boat which all collided with us. We maneuvered to avoid a collision and escape the torpedo which might be discharged. The searchlights then disclosed a torpedo boat immediately in front of the flagship about fifteen cable lengths away. We saw this one much better than the other, as the searchlights lit it up. The torpedo boats gradually drew off. At first we could distinguish only their bows, but we afterwards saw them completely. The first boat disappeared after three or four minutes. The second was visible much longer."

MORTUARY.

W. L. Green, Valdosta, Ga., (Special.)—W. L. Green, a merchant of this city, died at his home here yesterday afternoon, after an illness of three days with pneumonia. Mr. Green was formerly in the naval stores business at Howell, Ga., moving to Valdosta, a few months ago. His remains were carried to Thomasville for burial this morning.

Mrs. W. B. High, Valdosta, Ga., (Special.)—Mrs. High, wife of Rev. W. B. High, of this county, died yesterday afternoon at her home 3 miles north of Lake park. Mrs. High was one of the best known and most highly esteemed women in the county. She leaves a husband, six sons and one daughter, all of whom are grown and married except one. Her remains were buried at Corinth church this morning.

Thomas B. Wingfield, Eatonton, Ga., (Special.)—Thomas B. Wingfield, of this place, after an illness of several weeks, died last night at 1 o'clock from apoplexy. Mr. Wingfield was 54 years of age. He was the son of the late Colonel Junius A. Wingfield. He was never married, but has a large family of brothers and sisters.

Rev. T. J. Adams Dead. (Special.)—Rev. Joseph A. Adams, a well known Baptist clergyman, died yesterday afternoon at his home in Box Springs, Ga. He was 72 years of age and had spent most of his life in Talbot county.

Rev. John Octoby, Saginaw, Mich., (Special.)—Rev. John Octoby, a prominent Presbyterian pastor of the Warren Avenue Presbyterian church, is dead at his home in this city. He was 67 years of age. In 1886 he represented Michigan as a member of the Pan-American council at Glasgow, Scotland.

Colonel D. W. Thomas, Baltimore. (Special.)—Colonel D. W. Thomas, of Baltimore, died yesterday afternoon at his home in this city. He was 67 years of age and had spent today as the result of a fall last autumn.

No Choice in Missouri. (Special.)—Jefferson City, Mo., January 31.—The twelfth ballot in the contest for United States senator to succeed Francis M. Cockrell was taken today in joint session, but no choice resulted and the election dissolved for the day. The ballot resulted: Cockrell, 68; Nienringhaus, 66; Kerns, 12; Speaker Hill, 1. There were fourteen pairs.

The secretary of war yesterday decided to detach from the Sixteenth infantry, now stationed at Fort McPherson, Lieutenant L. S. D. Rucker, Jr., and to give him charge of the Georgia state troops. This action of the war department is the result of a request from Governor Terrell for the appointment of Lieutenant Auker. Yesterday morning Senator Clay called at the war department to place the request before Secretary Taft, who agreed to do as asked. The necessary orders will be issued at once.

Lieutenant Rucker is very popular socially in Atlanta, and is a son-in-law of Judge W. T. Newman. He has spent two years in the Philippines and saw service in Cuba. He comes from Michigan and is one of the most capable young officers in the service. He was made second lieutenant in 1898 and was promoted to a first lieutenant in 1900. He has served in the Fifteenth, Fourteenth, Eleventh and Sixteenth infantry.

Lieutenant Rucker will perform the duties formerly discharged by Lieutenant Satterlee and Captain Oscar Brown. He will have his headquarters in the state capital with the adjutant general.

COVINGTON GROWS STEADILY.

Will Probably Hold Industrial Fair This Aft. (Special.)—Covington, Ga., January 31.—Notwithstanding the dullness of trade among the merchants on account of cotton being held from the market for better prices, business is by no means stagnant. Many residences are being built and other improvements going on. Work on the buildings for the Covington Novelty works is well under way. The large warehouse of Fowler Brothers has been completed.

The movement started for holding a county agricultural and industrial fair in this city next fall will probably assume definite shape at the farmers' meeting at Saturday.

Emergency Examination Ended. (Special.)—Emory College, Oxford, Ga., January 31.—The last of the fall term examinations were held Tuesday morning. They lasted eight days.

BACKACHE NELSON BOOSTS STATEHOOD BILL

Jandico, Langnor, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Nervousness, Headache, Heartburn, Dyspepsia and So-Called Female Weakness are Caused by Sluggish Liver and Diseased Kidneys.

Declares People of West Still Have Too Much Cowboy Blood in Their Veins and It is Well To Have Balance Wheel.

Washington, January 31.—The senate today continued the consideration of the joint statehood bill, with Mr. Nelson as the principal speaker. Mr. Carmack presented the certificate of reelection of his colleague, Mr. Bates, to his fourth term. A bill was passed prohibiting express companies engaged in interstate and foreign commerce from carrying obscene literature. It extends to the transmission of such matter through the mails. Too Much Cowboy in West. "We of the west have a little cowboy in us still," he said, "and at times we are inclined to go too rapidly, and it is well to have a balance wheel." The passage attracted the attention of Mr. Bailey, who suggested that the senator feels this wild impulse finding in his blood he can find restraint if he will make application at the white house.

Mr. Nelson replied that he considered himself fortunate in his prompt and proceeded with his argument.

When the executive committee of the State Agricultural Society meets in this city February 8 it is thought the natural adaptation of Macon as the fair city will have more to do with the holding of the state fair here than any mere matter of local convenience. For this reason the location of Macon as the geographical center of the state, the railway center, and many other considerations will be urged in the effort to secure the state fair for 1905.

In just a few hours these two committees caught sight of something like $5,000 which can be had for the asking. With the $5,000 which the association already had on hand this means over $10,000 as an earnest of what the merchants of this city intend to do later.

No merchant approached by the two committees in question refused to either subscribe for stock or make any contribution. This means half of what the ways and means committee started out to collect, and this report of the other six committees has as yet not been made.

Declares People of West Still Have Too Much Cowboy Blood in Their Veins and It is Well To Have Balance Wheel.

Washington, January 31.—The senate today continued the consideration of the joint statehood bill, with Mr. Nelson as the principal speaker. Mr. Carmack presented the certificate of reelection of his colleague, Mr. Bates, to his fourth term. A bill was passed prohibiting express companies engaged in interstate and foreign commerce from carrying obscene literature. It extends to the transmission of such matter through the mails. The bill had passed the house.

During the early hours of the session there were several echoes of the president's message of yesterday, calling attention to the District of Columbia. New Orleans, January 31.—The legal name of the cotton pool formed by the executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association has been fixed as "The Southern Planters' Commission and Holding Company."

The charter has been drafted by the ablest lawyers of this city, and the domicile will be in New Orleans. The executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association will finally indorse the completed details of the pool at its meeting in Atlanta on February 7.

It has been agreed that W. P. Brown, the noted cotton pool operator, member of the local cotton exchange, will be the president; Abraham Britton, of the local cotton exchange, and S. P. Walmesley, of the local cotton exchange, will be the vice presidents; and J. H. Whyte, of New Orleans, secretary.

The meetings will be held in every township of the cotton belt on the 15th of next month to perfect the organization of the farmers. The warehousing committee of the Southern Cotton Association meets here on the 4th of next month to complete its report to the executive committee of that association.

COOL LIVINGSTON HAS FALL.
Congressman from Fifth Will Be Laid Up Several Days.

Washington, D. C., January 31.—Colonel Livingston had a bad fall on the icy streets here today and will probably be laid up at his home for several days. While walking in front of the department of commerce and labor building on Fourteenth street, he struck a bad place and fell heavily. He managed to get up to the capital a little later, but soon his arm and shoulder pained him so badly that he had to hunt a doctor.

The doctor found he had been pretty badly shaken up and sent him home with instructions to stay there for several days.

Prince Eitel Restless.

Fotodan, January 31.—The physicians in attendance on Prince Eitel today issued the following bulletin this morning: "During the first half of the night the prince was restless on account of the pain and difficulty in breathing. His sleep five hours after midnight. Temperature 101, pulse 70. The inflammation of the right lung is diminishing. The left lung is unchanged. Coughing and irritation normal, but the patient is weak after the coughing spells."

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

A CURE FOR ALL.

Not a Patent Cure-All, Nor a Modern

Miracle, but Simply a Rational

Cure for Dyspepsia.

In these days of humbuggery and deception, the manufacture of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to be the only business that will sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their remedy is absolute, that it cures every dyspeptic and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making any undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make but one claim for it and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no farther than this, and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it, that the facts will not fully sustain.

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medical properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. It treats the overworked organs, replenishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, gives refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take these Tablets at each meal, thus assisting and restoring the stomach which rapidly regains its proper digestive power, when the Tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous Dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and ever organ in the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package.

CANAL IN HANDS OF PRESIDENT DEFENSE OF MILES
Bill Abolishing Commission Is Shaking of Jefferson Davis Favorably Reported. Figures in Debate.

West All Powers of United States in Canal Zone in the President and Leaves Him Free To Act in All Matters.

Washington, January 23.—The house committee on interstate and foreign commerce today authorized a favorable report on the Mann bill, abolishing the Panama canal commission and placing the government of the canal zone and the work of constructing the canal entirely in the hands of the president.

Added to the bill as an amendment is the bill introduced by Mr. Mann providing for the acquisition by the government of a number of shares of stocks of the Panama Railroad Company now held in private ownership.

To File Minority Report.

Mr. Shackelford, democrat, of Missouri, will file a minority report representing his views on the matter, and Mr. Adamson, democrat, of Georgia, reserved the right to report minority views in condemnation of the purchase of the railroad stock. The authority to govern the zone and construct the canal is delegated to the president in the following language:

"That until the expiration of the fifth year of the act, the president shall have the power to make all rules and regulations necessary for the government of the canal zone, and all the rights, powers and authority granted by the terms of the treaty aforesaid to the United States shall be vested in the president of the United States and may be exercised by him in such persons and shall be exercised in such a manner as the president shall direct for the government of the said canal zone and maintaining and protecting the inhabitants thereof in the free enjoyment of their liberty, property and religion."

The president is authorized through one of the executive departments to construct the canal, also to employ such persons as may be needed and fix their compensation. One section repeals the act creating the isthmian canal commission.

CHANGES IN POLICE FORCE.

Chief Ball Issues Order Making Several Changes To Go Into Effect Today.

Chief Ball issued the following order, making several changes in the police force to go into effect today: "Sergeant W. F. Whitley is transferred to the evening watch, Sergeant Beavers to the morning watch, W. H. Bostwick to the morning watch as turnkey, J. B. Howell to the day watch as turnkey, B. F. Meeks to the morning watch, C. H. Mitchell to the morning watch, H. D. Freeman to the morning watch on call, E. E. Mitchell to the morning watch, I. H. Lindsey to the evening watch, A. D. Brannan to the evening watch, R. G. Wilson to the evening watch."

Hevel was placed on the day watch as turnkey because he has just passed through a critical illness and is in feeble health.

GIRL INJURED IN RUNAWAY.

After Falling from Buggy Horse Ran Over Her.

Valdosta, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—A runaway occurred this evening. A daughter of Charles L. Jones was badly hurt. The young woman was thrown from the buggy and the horse ran over her. She was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried to the home of her parents. An examination showed that no bones were broken, though the shock was great, if she was not injured otherwise. The horse was an old family horse.

A Dollar's Worth Free To Any Rheumatic Sufferer

I ask no deposit—no reference—no security. There is nothing to risk—nothing to promise—nothing to pay, either now or later. Any rheumatic sufferer who will send me my remedy may have a full dollar's worth free to try.

I willingly make this liberal offer because I know that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy may be relied upon ALWAYS to bring the most relief that medicine can give. I have discovered this remedy. I studied the nature of Rheumatism. For Rheumatism is really

Certain Relief

The secret lay in a wonderful chemical I found in Germany. When I found this chemical, I knew that I could make a Rheumatic Remedy that would be practically certain. But even then, before I made an announcement, I was willing to put my name on the failures were but 2 per cent.

This German chemical is not the only remedy I made. I made an announcement of an achievement which, I doubt not, could have been made in no other way. This chemical was very expensive. The duty, too, was high. In all, it cost me $4.90 per pound. But what is $4.90 per pound for a REAL remedy for the world's most painful disease—for a real relief from the greatest torture human beings know?

I don't mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy can turn bony joints into flesh again—there is no such thing. But it will drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling, and then that is the end of the trouble. I mean that it is the only remedy I can afford to spend the FIRST dollar that Rheumatic sufferers, the world over, may learn of my remedy.

Simply Write Me

The offer is open to everyone, everywhere. Who has not been troubled by Rheumatism? Write me for the free dollar package order. I will send you an order on your druggist which will accept as gladly as he would accept a dollar. He will hand you from his shelves a standard sized package and he will send the bill to me. There are no conditions—no requirements. All that I ask you to do is to write me and I will send you my book on Rheumatism before you are free. It will help you to understand your case. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 678, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases are often cured by a single bottle. On sale at forty thousand drug stores.

Democratic House Leader Declares Himself Not Afraid of His Loyalty to the South, and Tells of Close Relations to President Davis.

Washington, January 31.—The treatment by General Nelson A. Miles of Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy, during the time he was a prisoner at Fort Monroe, Va., was recalled in the house today when Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, the minority leader, tried to secure the adoption of the senate amendment to the house provision regarding retired officers serving with the state militia. Messrs. Hull, of Iowa, and Hay, of Virginia, both members of the military affairs committee, endorsed the house provision making it retroactive. The latter declared it was democratic doctrine to save money and for that reason called upon the demagogues to stand by the committee. Mr. Williams' motion to agree to the senate amendment which does not make the law retroactive, retired officers retroactive, was lost—71 to 171. The bill then was sent to conference.

The postoffice appropriation bill was debated for an hour, but its consideration had not been concluded when the house adjourned.

Not Ashamed of Loyalty.

Mr. Williams, in his reply to Messrs. Hull and Hay, said that he was not at all afraid of the consequences to his credit or to his loyalty to the confederacy. "I'm not," he said, "ashamed of my loyalty or fealty as a southerner. I dislike so much to stay under cover that we might as well come out. I share the feeling that southern men generally entertain regarding General Miles' conduct when he put shackles upon the ankles of Jefferson Davis, and I do not believe it will count against my credit or that it will sound in history to the discredit of Mr. Davis that he was compelled to submit to it, old and helpless and sick as he was at the time. If this legislation had been pointed at anybody else than General Miles—a democrat appointed by a democratic government under those circumstances and believed by me, rightfully or wrongfully, to have taken the same course that I have taken except that I would have taken it much more anxiously and much more warmly."

I stand in the relationship to Jefferson Davis that some of my critics do not. First, he was a Mississippian, and I am one. My grandfather was the senior captain of his regiment in the Mexican war, and his favorite captain, and in the third place, he was my friend, as far as an old man can be a friend of a child or boy. If you want to punish General Miles or anybody else for what was done in those days, if history is to hold out its condemnation, all right, but this is not the time nor the place nor the way to get even. The people of the south don't punish in little ways like that."

Mr. Williams was loudly applauded on the democratic side.

Littlefield Fears Defeat.

The postoffice appropriation bill aroused a discussion on government finances, in which Mr. Littlefield, of Ohio, asserted that if appropriations were kept at their present size there would be a deficit of $61,000,000.

Mr. Payne, of New York, would not commit himself in reply to questions by Messrs. Littlefield, of Wisconsin, and Gaines, of Tennessee, as to whether the government would pass a public building and harbor bill, but said that the present session would be brought to a close with appropriations for the next fiscal year that would be within the government's income.

He charged that the republicans had profited by the expenditures of the last few years hundreds of millions of dollars, Mr. Moon, of Tennessee, declared that if that party had been true to the people of the United States the deficiency that was now

Explosion Badly Hurts Workman and Blows Child Into Yard.

Tallahassee, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—Frank Songer's wife was seriously injured this evening by a dynamite explosion. One leg was shattered above the knee, near the thigh, and a part of a stove was blown through the other. Every window in the house was shattered and a child was blown entirely out of the house into the yard.

Some workmen in digging a well last summer had used dynamite for blasting and had carelessly put one stick left over into an old stove for safekeeping. Yesterday Songer moved into town and the old stove was brought along and set up. Mr. Songer made a fire in it this evening with the results stated.

TAKE THIS TO YOUR DRUGGISTHOMOSASSA PRIZE CATCH
MADE BY GEO. S. LOWNDES

Twenty-seven-Pound Channel Bass Caught at Homosassa, Fla.

Atlanta's famous fishing club has returned to the city after one of the most successful outings it has ever taken.

The organization is the Homosassa Fishing Club, which is composed of twenty-four of the most prominent men in Atlanta. They are men who love the rod and reel and the quiet, peaceful existence of a fisherman.

This year the annual visit to the club house and grounds at Homosassa was marked by the remarkable catch of George S. Lowndes, who landed a twenty-seven pound channel bass or red fish. The catch was made with a rod and reel. The fish was game. He fought for thirty-five minutes and broke the rod of Mr. Lowndes in two places. His captor finally pulled him in hand over hand by main strength.

Mr. Lowndes is being congratulated by members of the club upon his catch. The fish was brought into the Constitution office yesterday morning and was photographed. The camera, like George Washington, lacks that quality which all good fishermen are supposed to possess.

The members of the Homosassa Fishing Club are as follows: F. M. Potts, president; I. S. Mitchell, secretary; George S. Lowndes, secretary and treasurer; J. L. Harrison, George Muse, T. M. Armistead, John Berkele, Dr. A. W. Calhoun, Frank P. Rice, Anton Kontz, H. C. Bagley, E. C. Peters, H. Y. McCord, Paul Potts, D. B. DeSaussure, C. E. Currier, J. C. Brannan, Dr. J. S. Todd, Henry Durand, W. S. Duncan, Clark Howell, D. G. Whyte, Judge Howard Van Epps and David Woodward.

Dr. Calhoun had the honor of being the only member of the club to get ducked this year, a distinction of which he is very proud. Usually three or four members fall out of the boats but this year only Dr. Calhoun performed the feat. It is against the rules of the club to purposely fall out of a boat. The thing must be done accidentally.

The club owns its own club house and grounds, including a wharf, boat house and boats. The house is supplied with hot and cold water for bathing purposes and all other modern conveniences. The Homosassa river, according to the members of the club, possesses fishing advantages that are found nowhere else. The river contains millions of fish and the water is so clear that they may be seen. Consequently a fisherman may sit in a boat and locate the exact fish that he desires catching. He can change his bait until he has something on his hook that appeals to the appetite of the fish he wants and if any other fish attempts to butt in the fisherman may jerk his bait away.

The Homosassa Fishing Club left Atlanta this year on January 10. One party returned on January 21 and all other members of the club reached Atlanta on January 28.

Exclusive Spring Models In Silk and Wool Tailored Suits
Having Their First Showing
In Our Ready-to-Wear Dep't

Checks Are Chic! Many of our high class Wool Tailored Suits are shown in Shepherd's Plaids and Small Checks, in black and white and in colors. The dainty Bolero with the short sleeve to be worn over a fetching lingerie waist and a silk girdle seems the favorite coat shape, although the long, half-fitting coat is shown in some stylish models. The new circular or bell skirt is a true "survival or revival of the fittest" and promises to be as immensely popular as its prototype was some years ago.

Pastel Colors Are Reigning! We are showing beautiful new Panama Cloth Blouse Suits in exquisite shades of green and biscuit, made up in the tucked blouse with square yoke effect and a suggestion of a tunic below the girdle—the sleeves are very full at top and fit closely from the elbow down to the wrist. Touches of Spring colors in embroidered bands outline the front edges of the coat. Other useful suits have close fitting tailored coats set with plaits, to be worn with plaited skirts and are made up in chiffon broadcloth in navy blue, tan or in black.

Silk Suits—The Fashion! There is no dissenting voice when the beauty of our Silk Suits is the topic. First, the self-trimmed Silk Shirt Waist Suit in plain, changeable colors or in fine striped effects. Next, the prettily trimmed Blouse Suit as strictly tailor made to the severest woolen; then, the elaborately fashioned Silk Costume with draped Blouse Waist finished with a deep girdle or even with a full redingote skirt below the girdle. We have them all and they're reasonably priced, too.

ADDER PLACED IN BON BONS
TO KILL FRAULEIN RENHKE

MUNICH, BAVARIA, January 31.—Fraulein Renhke, of the Court theater, who is playing the juvenile lead in Hauptmann's "Bergschmelde," found on her dressing table last evening a beautiful bonbon box with a note requesting her to open the box before going on the stage. The actress was too much occupied to do so until before the last act, and when she did open it an adder darted out and fastened its fangs in her dress. Fraulein Renhke screamed and fell in a faint, and the attendants killed the adder. After some delay the actress was able to finish the performance.

DEATH REMOVES
JAMES M. HOBSON

Father of Merrimac Hero Is Dead of Pneumonia.

Greensboro, Ala., January 31.—Judge James M. Hobson, father of Captain Richmond P. Hobson, died at this place this morning of pneumonia, aged 69.

Soon after his son's Merrimac feat, Judge Hobson, although a democrat, was appointed by President McKinley as postmaster at Greensboro, which office he held until death. His wife died last year.

MILL MEN FIGHT
FACTORY BILL

Attempt To Raise Age of Girl Employees Rejected.

Raleigh, N. C., January 31.—(Special).—A big fight is on in the legislature on the bill to raise the age for white girls allowed to be employed in cotton mills from 12 to 14 years, and provide that no boys under 14 can be employed in such establishments, unless they can read and write.

Many mill men are here, and they are fighting the measure.

There are several thousand children in the mills under fourteen years of age. The Junior Order of American Mechanics is backing this movement with all its strength.

TO ADVERTISE
CITY INTERESTS

Business Men Consider Plans To Place Atlanta Before Country.

To enhance and advance the interests of Atlanta commercially and otherwise a number of Atlanta's progressive business men gathered in room 124 of the Piedmont last night to take initiatory steps in a campaign by which the Gate City of the south may be introduced to such corners of the earth as may not know it well and to keep it more prominently before all sections of the country.

The gathering was the result of a request for a conference sent out during the forenoon, and, notwithstanding the short time, there were a large number of leading citizens in attendance. Informal and somewhat colloquial was the conference, those participating in the discussion remaining in their chairs while talking. The work being done by other cities to attract attention and thereby secure a growth of trade was discussed. The fact that Lynchburg, Va., through a concerted movement is now expending $100,000 in presenting its trade advantages, etc., was recounted by one of the party conversant with the situation. Richmond's purse of the same amount and the good it has accomplished was presented while the fact that Baltimore is now dispensing $25,000 in a like manner was shown. Montgomery, realizing the good the cities mentioned have accomplished, is now ready to disburse $5,000 for the same purpose.

"The movement was given a start," remarked one of the gentlemen who was present shortly after the meeting was over, "and when Atlanta once starts a thing it is never allowed to linger or lose out. Each Atlanta present will make his feeling in the matter known to every one with whom he comes in contact. Each one will speak of the big meeting we have in contemplation Tuesday afternoon next at 3:30 o'clock in the chamber of commerce. At that meeting definite steps and positive action will be taken by which Atlanta will be given the aid of the advice of its best citizens. Out of it we hope to inaugurate a concerted movement of the jobbers and manufacturers of the city the object of which will be securing and obtaining the trade of nearby towns."

Home for Colored Soldiers. Washington, January 31.—Senator Hale today offered an amendment to the dry civil bill appropriating $200,000 for the erection of a memorial home in honor of deceased colored soldiers of the Civil war, the home to be used for indigent soldiers and their needy families.

SHORT ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

REV. JUNIUS W. MILLARD, recently chosen pastor of the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church, is now in Atlanta, and will conduct the prayer meeting service tonight for the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

J. L. CASTLEBERRY, AGED 30 years, died of pneumonia yesterday morning at the residence, 186 Fowler street. The body lies in the parlors of Barclay & Brandon, and will be taken to Flowerly Branch, Ga., today for funeral and interment.

MRS. JESSIE BROOKS, AGED 31 years, died early yesterday morning at the residence, 197 Back street. The body was taken to Acworth, Ga., at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon for funeral and interment.

FIRE WAS DISCOVERED IN THE kitchen of the residence of C. H. McCrary, at 63 Windsor street, about 11:30 o'clock last night, but was extinguished with a slight loss. The fire started in the kitchen and burned the rear of the house considerably. The damage was about $200.

THE TEACHERS' COMMITTEE of the board of education held a call meeting at the Boys' High school at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon for the purpose of looking into some matters referred to it at the last meeting of the board. The committee decided not to make public anything that they had until it was acted upon. The following matter that came up at the last meeting of the board was referred to the committee: Recommendations, in regard to manual training in the schools, made by E. E. Utterback, who has charge of manual training. The committee was requested by motion, to take up immediately the question of beginning industrial work, especially cooking, in the Storr school, the school on Houston street, and other matters of minor importance.

THE REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING of the Fulton county commissioners will be held at 10 o'clock this morning in the offices of the board in the court house annex. Save for the Georgia Railway and Electric Company's petition to double track that part of the street road under county supervision nothing of importance will come up. The petition was referred to the committee. In the Constitution, has been given an adverse report by the roads and bridges committee.

S. P. DAVIS, OF ROME, GA., Reported to the police that he woke up in a room at the Jackson hotel yesterday morning and found that he had been robbed of $150 in cash and a fine gold watch, valued at $100. He says he cannot account for the robbery. He does not know how or when he went to the hotel, and there are suspicions he was drugged before he went to the hotel.

A CEMENT AND STONE BIN, which is on an abutment of a bridge at the corner of Elliott and Rhodes streets, collapsed yesterday morning, and three men were injured. Superintendent J. Shirley was bruised about the body; R. W. Nails, a white man was hurt and his leg was broken at the ankle; Grady hospital; Henry Wilson, colored, was seriously injured and he lies at the hospital in a critical condition.

WITH A PISTOL IN HIS HAND, A negro jumped into a delivery wagon which was on an abutment of a bridge at the corner of Elliott and Rhodes streets, collapsed yesterday morning, and three men were injured. Superintendent J. Shirley was bruised about the body; R. W. IN THE UNITED STATES CIRCUIT court yesterday morning, presiding, the application of Mrs. Ursula E. Shanklin, widow of the late W. E. Shanklin, for a writ of habeas corpus, to be released from the custody of the Georgia State Prison for $200,000 damages because of the death of W. E. Shanklin was read, a jury was obtained and some three or four witnesses were heard. Shanklin, according to the petition filed by Attorney C. J. Ladson, of Atlanta, was during the last months of the fall of 1903 an employee of the Seaboard. On October 12, 1903, while at work on his train at or near Hampton, Fla., he was injured in a collision between sections of his train at the point indicated. The accident resulted in the death of Shanklin. The litigation had its inception in the state court, but was subsequently transferred to the United States court. The case will probably consume the remainder of the week.

J. L. POWELL, MERCHANT, IN Shellmouth, a village in Polk county, through his attorney yesterday submitted voluntary petition in bankruptcy. The applicant gives his liabilities as about $1,700 and shows assets of something less than $500.

THE UNITED STATES GRAND JURY will convene tomorrow, Thursday morning. The indications are that the session will be short but that it will be full of life while it is going on as there are a number of papers in which the description of illicit distilling is clearly defined and portrayed now in the hands of the district attorney.

HUBERT SIMMONS, NOW OCCUPYING Corner Moore's chair in the United States clerk's office, is making friends by the pleasant manner in which he greets visitors and disposes of business brought to his attention by attorneys and others who have matters calling for the work of the office.

General Lee Delivers Fine Speech at McKinley Banquet.

Pays Tribute to the Memory of the Late President and Discusses the Reunited Country in Feeling and Effective Manner.

Canton, Ohio, January 31.—Commemorating the natal day of the late President McKinley, the Young Men's McKinley Club, of Canton, tonight held a notable banquet in the Auditorium, Canton's new assembly hall, of heroic proportions.

Vice President-elect Fairbanks occupied the central position as chief guest of honor. Justice William R. Day, friend, neighbor and confidante of the late president, was master of ceremonies.

To his left was General Fitzhugh Lee, idol and hero of the south. Vis-a-vis sat General Hancock, one of the heroes of the civil war, and former commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

To either side of these guests were Governor Myron T. Herrick and Lieutenant Governor Warren G. Harding, of Ohio. These were the speakers of the evening. Among the listeners was Mrs. McKinley.

"McKinley and the South" was General Lee's subject. He said:

"Ohio, it is true, is the state of his nativity. Her citizens knew and loved the living McKinley; her soil is sacred with the grave which marks the resting place of the dead McKinley; her people will cherish his lofty character, and his splendid services as long as the mountains kiss the heavens or the rivers roll to the sea."

"Ohio, however, cannot bound his boundless fame, for on the wings of renown, his glory has been wafted to all parts of the world."

"Sleep on, oh, just, and wise ruler! Your birth was a blessing to your country; your life a blessing to all its inhabitants; your death a calamity which has excited the lamentations of a world."

"Today there are hanging in my library two swords, linked together, side by side. One used as a major general when a confederate soldier, the other worn as a major general of the United States volunteers."

The weapons of Grant and Lee have been sheathed forever. The sabers of Sheridan and Stuart have been returned to their scabbards and the tents of Sherman and Joe Johnston have been pitched on the eternal camping grounds, and all over this land at this hour is shining the great orb of peace."

PANAMA APPOINTS CONSULS.

Will It Cure Consumption?

NO, we cannot hold out the promise that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure consumption when thoroughly seated and established. We doubt if any medicine will then cure, although hundreds have been cured by the "Discovery" after their attending physicians had pronounced their cases to be regular tuberculosis consumption. The fact is that the "Golden Medical Discovery" does cure severe throat and bronchial affections, lingering coughs, and those obstinate, wasting, "run-down" conditions which, if neglected or improperly treated, run on and terminate in genuine consumption.

We know that thousands of men and women although in the advanced stages of feebleness and emaciation—pallid, wasted and broken-down with all the terrible symptoms of hacking coughs, night sweats, hectic fever, absolute prostration, and even bleeding from the lungs—have been restored by the use of this marvelous medicine to permanent health, strength and vitality. But it must be taken in time, before the lungs have been filled with tubercular deposits, or have actually begun to break down.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: "Dear Sir—I wish to speak as to the benefit received from Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. My health being run-down last fall, I caught a bad cold which settled in my lungs and throat. I had a very bad cough, also a great deal of phlegm. I could see no benefit from any other physician and he said that if my cough could not be broken up I would go into consumption. I could see no benefit from his treatment, so I purchased a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and in two weeks' time my cough was all gone. I am sure the 'Golden Medical Discovery' is one of the best cough remedies in existence and I also know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is very good for the troubles for which it is recommended, for I have taken it."

Others may be benefited as I have been. I remain, Yours truly, Mrs. M. B. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Good temper is largely a matter of good health, and good health is largely a matter of healthy action of the bowels. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are safe, sure and speedy, and once taken do not have to be taken again. One little 'Pellet' is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. By all druggists.

Spencer Says Railroads Will Aid President.

President of Southern Declares There Is Popular Misbelief as to President's Roosevelt's Purpose, and Calls Rate Making a Bad Name.

New York, January 31.—Samuel Spencer, president of the Southern railway, who recently appeared before the house committee in Washington at a hearing relative to the regulation of freight rates, made a statement today in which he said there had been a misconception of the president's purpose in his speech in Philadelphia last night, and that there was a confusion in the public mind between rebate abuse and the making of rates "two opposed things." He said:

"If there are rebate abuses, and undoubtedly there have been some, the railroads of this country, I think, I may safely say, are a unit in agreeing with the president that such abuses should be controlled."

"The president is right and the vast majority of the managers of the rail-

IS "FAKE" DOCTOR,
DETECTIVES SAYDr. Ben Schoenfeld Locked Up
Last Night.Warrant Charges Him with Being a Common Swindler—Alleged That He Represents Bogus Medical Concern—Gave Worthless Check.

Dr. Ben Schoenfeld, secretary of the "Chicago Medical Sanitarium Association," found himself suddenly transferred last night at 8:30 o'clock from a cosy room at the Virginia Hotel, on Broad street, to a cell at police barracks on a warrant charging him with being a "common cheat and swindler." This will probably be startling news to a large number of people who have been, it is said, negotiating with "Dr." Schoenfeld for some of his wonderful medicines, which were alleged to cure any and all of the ills to which the flesh of mortals is heir.

The warrant on which Detectives Lockhart and Steint arrested the doctor last night was sworn out by John F. Dickinson, of Griffin, Ga., who says that the doctor has been seeking patients in Griffin on a plan which was all for the doctor and nothing for the patient. Mr. Dickinson says that Dr. Schoenfeld employed him to distribute literature about the Chicago Medical Sanitarium Association and paid him with a check for $20 on Belt Brothers & Co., private bankers at Bunker Hill, Ill. The check, Mr. Dickinson says, was no good, and he exhibits a telegram from the bankers in which it is said that neither the doctor nor his association has any account with their bank.

How He Got Patients.
According to the evidence secured by the officers last night, Dr. Schoenfeld has been in Atlanta nearly two months and he has been sending out literature over the state. His plan was to get agents to distribute his circulars and later he would call and get the patients by demanding a part payment in cash and the balance in notes. So far no one has been found who got any returns for their money.

The doctor's headquarters were at first at No. 49 West Harris street, but yesterday he removed to the Virginia hotel with his wife. The officers state that the doctor was trying to elude them and that they had some trouble in locating him last night.

The prisoner is a man of middle age, small of stature, well dressed and a good talker. When seen in his cell by a representative of The Constitution, he made a statement, and then, again, he did not make a statement. His reply to the first question was the old, familiar: "You really must wait until I see my lawyer before I talk."

Answered Some Questions.
He finally agreed to answer such questions as he thought would not injure his cause. He said that he had been in Atlanta five weeks, and that his association sent out "treatments" from St. Louis. His explanation about the check on the Bunker Hill bank was that he had funds coming to him from that town. He would not say who was behind the association, or where its headquarters were located. He declined to say whether or not he had received any money in this state. When asked if he was a licensed physician his answer was: "Well, not in this state."

"Then in what state," he was asked. "Now, I must really decline to answer that question until I see my lawyer," he said.

The officers make the request for any person who has had business dealings with Dr. Schoenfeld to communicate with the chief of police at once.

The doctor will be taken to Griffin in a few days for a preliminary trial.

FREIGHT RATES
GO INTO EFFECTColumbus Expects To Save Money by the Change.

Columbus, Ga., January 31.—(Special).—The reduced freight rates to Columbus from the east and west go into effect tomorrow, February 1.

A substantial reduction is made in certain classes of freight, which will be beneficial to local business interests. These are the same reductions which were recently granted Atlanta by the railroads.

Partridge Not an Outlaw.
Columbus, Ga., January 31.—(Special).—About noon today, as the Central passenger train was coming from Birmingham to Columbus, a section of one of the window panes fell in with a crash. The conductor thought that the train had been rocked by an outlaw and stopped the train to see if the perpetrator of the outrage could be found. A short search resulted in finding the lawbreaker. It was a partridge, which, flying with great swiftness, struck the window and broke it.

Funeral of Miss Gibson.
Macon, Ga., January 31.—(Special).—The funeral service of Miss Kittle Gibson, who died yesterday morning after the burial of her mother Sunday afternoon, was conducted from the First Street Methodist church this morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. J. M. Glenn officiating, assisted by Rev. J. B. Johnstone.

CONDITION OF PEACHTREE ST. ASPHALT
CONTINUES TO BE A MENACE TO TRAFFIC

THE condition of Peachtree street from Pine street to the city limits is unchanged. Officials of the city have done nothing towards repairing the thoroughfare. It is still a menace to those who are forced to use it, and a probable drain upon the city treasury because of the damages for which the municipality will be liable if the holes and ruts in it injure pedestrians or wreck vehicles.

Attention of the residents of Peachtree street has been directed to a law of the city, which provides that they may make application for a new paving if the present one is worn out. The residents of the street declare that they knew of the existence of the law, but that they do not want a new paving. They want the present one repaired. They say that if the city had been attending to the asphalt and had made repairs in it from time to time the present conditions could never have existed.

Washington, New York, Baltimore and scores of other cities that are paved with asphalt are constantly repairing their pavings. They do not allow them to become worn out or dangerous. This, the residents of Peachtree street declare, is what Atlanta should do.

dents of Peachtree street were informed of this. Their reply was that even were the charter amendment passed, what is to become of the street between now and June, when the constant menace, what of the damages that the city will be forced to pay if anyone is injured or killed.

Those who are calling attention to the condition of Peachtree street say that the city can save money, and can certainly protect the citizens by filling the dangerous holes in the Peachtree street asphalt. The street committee of council, of which Councilman Holland is chairman, will meet this week. Council has apportioned money for asphalt repairs. It may be that the street committee will regard seriously enough the condition of Peachtree street to expend some of this money in repairing it.

RAILWAY NOTES.

The Atlanta railroad world is divided against itself on the reports that the Louisville and Nashville intend to erect a big passenger terminal in Atlanta. It is generally believed that if they do erect such a terminal station it will be on the property south of the present car sheds, which was purchased from the cathedral parish. The present lease from the state on the old depot will continue for some sixteen years, and there are many who believe that some much-needed repairs will be made, and the present building utilized unless it would be possible to secure a continuation of the present lease from the legislature for a very long term of years, which would warrant the erection of an expensive terminal.

Commercial Agent Lillard, of the Atlanta and West Point, with headquarters at Knoxville, was an Atlanta visitor yesterday.

The travel to the south continues to increase, and while the big trains are crowded going in the direction of Florida, many of these trains are comparatively empty going north. Passenger men look to a remedy of this expense in the heavy movement east of merchants, who go north about this time of the year to purchase goods. This movement is always a big item, and it is believed that this year will see a large number of buyers hurrying to New York notwithstanding the price of cotton at present. Railroad men say that while there is no disputing the fact that the present low prices have a tremendous effect on general business, the truth remains that everyone in the south seems to have plenty of money, and are making arrangements to spend it.

Less than one-fifth of the amount of fertilizer moved by the railroads during January, 1904, is the report for the month just closed. The railroads have been offering many empty cars to the fertilizing factories, only to have them refused on the ground that there were no orders for shipment at present. The fertilizer people seem to be very hopeful, however, and insist that more than 75 per cent of the fertilizer sold last year will be sold this season. The only thing feared is the congestion that is sure to result in the delaying of orders until the last and the effort the roads to handle the big movement in a very short space of time.

The reduced rates which are the result of the big war recently ended go into effect today. This change in the rates means a tremendous amount of extra work in the clerical departments of the many railroads and chief clerks and their assistants have been working early and late trying to familiarize themselves with the new tariffs.

Railroad officials continue to complain of the scarcity of labor in Atlanta and vicinity, notwithstanding the fact that negroes and white men continue to offer as a plea to judge and recorders the excuse that they can not secure employment. The Southern and the Louisville and Nashville are offering a very practical solution to the vagrancy law in supplying a large amount of work for all those who are willing to work.

Official Changes in New York.

New York, January 31.—At meetings of boards of directors of Vanderbilt lines, held in this city today, President Ingalls, of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railway, and President Ledyard, of the Michigan Central railroad, resigned. W. H. Newman, president of the New York Central, was elected president of the Michigan Central, and also of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis.

Mr. Ingalls was elected chairman of the board of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, and Mr. Ledyard was elected chairman of the board of the Michigan Central, Senator Depew, the former chairman of the Michigan Central, having resigned.

At the meeting of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, known as the "Big Four," E. V. W. Rooster was elected vice president in charge of finances, W. C. Brown, vice president in charge of transportation; John Carstensen, vice president in charge of accounts, and G. J. Grammer, vice president in charge of traffic.

At the Michigan Central meeting W. C. Brown was also elected vice president in charge of transportation; John C. Carstensen, vice president in charge of accounts, and G. J. Grammer, vice president in charge of traffic.

HUGH SCOTT IS MANAGER.

Atlanta Boy Has Been Elected Manager of the Georgia Football Team for 1905.

Hugh Scott, a well known Atlanta boy, now at the University of Georgia, was yesterday elected manager of the Georgia football team for 1905.

The manager of the team some time ago resigned and a new manager had to be elected. Hugh Scott graduated from the university in 1903, and is now taking a law course.

He is one of the leaders of his class and is very popular with his class mates. He has always taken a deep interest in college athletics and has served the university in an athletic capacity on several occasions.

BABY'S VOICE

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe, angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-birth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and assists nature in its sublime work. By its aid thousands of women have passed this great crisis in perfect safety and without pain. Sold at $1.00 per bottle by druggists. Our book of priceless value to all women sent free. Regarding the Asphalt.

Public opinion emphatically endorses the stand taken by The Constitution regarding the dilapidated Peachtree asphalt, if the number of messages of cordial encouragement received yesterday from representative taxpayers are to be taken at their face value.

Residents of North Pryor, Washington, Capitol avenue, Peters and other streets, partially or entirely paved with asphalt, realize that they have common cause with the hundreds of citizens complaining about the neglect of the Peachtree paving, since the same indifferent, dilatory policy will be manifested when these avenues reach a condition needing attention, unless immediate steps are taken to establish some sort of basis on which present and future repairs will be assured without ruinous and exasperating delay.

The people do not accept, either, the ill-advised contention that asphalt is obsolete as a paving. Many of the largest cities of the north and east use it on thoroughfares subjected to the heaviest traffic and are continuing to pave with it.

It is a peculiarity of this substance that it is unusually susceptible to repair if taken in hand as soon as the slightest evidence of deterioration is visible. No paving, of course, will resist the effect of use forever, but if asphalt is given the attention and expenditure ordinarily applied to any other form of paving, it can be maintained in a condition of efficiency as economically as any other substance used for this purpose.

Witte to the Rescue.

Gradually the fury of the recent Russian storm is abating. There are still rumblings of distant, sinister thunder and occasionally the spirit of revolution flares out ominously, but the most hopeful friends of Russian popular liberty are conceding that their dreams will have to wait on the moral effect of the brutality at St.
Petersburg, rather than strive to profit by the immediate popular revolution. Not only has autocracy been too forehanded with the masses in its terrorizing tactics, but its vulpine cunning has gone a long way toward soothing them back into the apathetic condition of a few weeks ago.

Those who have followed the current history of Russia with any concentration, profess to detect in this sudden subsidence of a most threatening political eruption the inimitable genius of Sergei Witte, one-time minister of Russian finance and a man of powerful and unique personality.
Witte is an old combination. By instinct an absolutist, he has yet managed to obtain a wonderful hold over the masses. This seeming miracle has been wrought through the fact that Witte inaugurated the financial reform, the industrial laws and general labor regulations which are responsible for even the small industrial development of the Russia of today.
He is in favor of reforms, but believes the state, not the individual, should father them. He pushes this theory consistently in all directions, maintaining the principle of autocracy and yet gaining the support of the people by ameliorating their condition through the paternal agency of the government.

It will be remembered that during the recent disturbances a delegation of workmen visited Witte, asking his intercession in behalf of their demands, an action speaking eloquently of their faith in his sympathy for the laboring classes. With characteristic diplomacy, Witte intimated that there might be an element of justice in the contentions of the strikers, but told them frankly they were assuming an attitude calculated to indefinitely defer rather than hasten their achievement.

It seems that a man of such undoubted finesse, capable of reconciling two inherently opposed forces, would have gained the firm cooperation of the czar. Witte was, in fact, for some time high in favor with Nicholas, who admired his broad grasp of conditions, his stimulative policies and his unswerving enforcement of rules necessary to materialize them. But the grand dual clique, envious of Witte's ascendancy and resenting the manner in which he was gradually reducing the prerogatives supporting their indolence, systematically undermined him with the czar, putting absurd notions into the latter's head touching the towering ambitions of his chief adviser and counselling him to relegate Witte to private life before he had the chance to cultivate an overwhelming personal following in the empire.

Plebe, the recently assassinated reactionary, added his strong influence to the war on Witte. A master craftsman in the art of flattery, he soon ingratiated his theories into favor with Nicholas, persuading him that Witte was jeopardizing the autocratic integrity of the dynasty and that only through the most pronounced repression could the country be kept uncontaminated by the virus of revolution. His plots prospered and Witte was gently side-tracked to make room for the equally positive but narrower doctrines of Plebe. The sudden death of the latter was probably a boon to the Russian populace, for had Plebe lived to see the recent outbreak, inevitably he would have inaugurated measures of repression and prevention beside which the revolting procedure of last Sunday would have appeared tame.

Mirsky's regime is near enough to need little comment. A mild, benevolent man, he put forth policies he had neither the ability to enforce or the power to withdraw. Not rising to the full stature necessary to meet the racking emergency of last week, he could hardly expect to retain the reins of control or be considered as more than a well-informed, passive counsellor.

It is intimated that Nicholas, turning to Witte in his hour of extremity, has conferred on him power to frame and initiate such measures as his judgment approves for the relief of the present strained situation. That Witte will prove of big enough mental grith for the task is the opinion of the continental papers with accurate sources of information and an exhaustive knowledge of Russian politics. If he brings peace and prosperity to the empire he will be discharging a benign mission. But, in the meantime, ask the advocates of popular government, what will become of the chances for the inception of the latter, as long as the subtle Witte establishes autocracy more firmly by making concessions to the dissatisfied industrial elements?

An Excellent Suggestion.

Several of the officials promi-nently identified with labor and industrial interests in Atlanta are using their influence quietly toward the establishment here of a branch of the National Civic Federation. The idea is an excellent one and The Constitution hopes to see it encounter early success.

The aim of the National Civic Federation is, primarily, the clarifying of relations between employer and employee and an improvement of the conditions under which the latter live.

As in New York, the federation is composed of a membership representing all elements interested, in addition to the most prominent business and professional men, scholars and philanthropists who can be induced to lend their aid and influence to the work. The beneficent work of the federation in putting an end to the subway strike will be remembered. It has undertaken other missions of this nature, never proffering its services, however, unless both factions were agreeable to its exerting the office of arbitration.

At present the federation consists of seven sections or branches, the only one in the south being located at New Orleans. Atlanta's industrial interests are sufficiently extensive and the breadth of their future career sufficiently obvious to warrant the establishment of a section here. Wherever these sections have been installed they have operated to increase amity between capital and labor and to further the "man to man" principle in all problems affecting the common interest. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the plan for bringing this educational, harmonizing agency here will prosper apace.

Enumerating Southern Advantages.

(From The Chicago Breeder's Gazette.)
It is a wonder to me, I read about your section covered with ice and snow and remember the tough times I formerly had up in North Dakota caring for stock, why more eyes are not turned in this direction for the "stock proposition."

We have a market at our doors at 10 to 100 per cent better prices than you have. I have just sold dressed some surplus pork I fattened on cow peas, artichokes and corn at 88 per cent. right here in town. Good butter and fresh eggs are 25 cents per pound and down the river. We can grow more kinds of stock feed like cow peas, soy beans, sorghum, amsaava, velvet beans, Bermuda grass, all better from 10 to 200 per cent than any feeds you can raise in the north. We can grow this feed on land that costs from $1 to $25 per acre, hence with one-tenth the cost for building and so forth.
See the big percentage over the north.

Now with these three leading facts before the young farmer who does not go south instead of west? I have thoroughly tried both and speak from experience. I also had Professor Henry, of Wisconsin, down here two years ago and he saw these things growing. I showed him forty different kinds of feed stuffs growing here on my farm and I am more of a fruit man, as we grow all sorts here, than stock man just now, although I always expect to keep stock enough to keep my hand in.

The United States census of 1890 shows

two healthiest in the country. Our schools are as good as any you have, I mean

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Tribute to Harry Fisher.
Editor Constitution: Referring to the communication of your correspondent from Jewell, Okla. which was very timely, I write this to pay a slight tribute to the pioneer of "king cotton," so far as I know. His name is H. C. Fisher, formerly of Atlanta, but now of Newman, Ga.
For a great many years Mr. Fisher has manufactured fertilizer sold to the farmers of Georgia and the south one of the very best commercial fertilizers ever manufactured by mortal man, and what is infinitely more important, he delivered every pound of it in cotton bags. Well, it seems to me that if anybody can answer your correspondent his name is H.
C. Fisher, Newman, Ga.

The writer here can give very valuable information on this line from personal experience, because he has seen with his own eyes thousands of sturdy boys in Georgia who preferred Mr.
Fisher's leading brand, W. O. C. "White Oak Club" because it was always, and ever will be, delivered in cotton sacks and a majority of the afore-said boys made shirts out of W. O. C. sacks after the cotton season was over.

The violets from the garden, and she pinned 'em on for you!

II.
The old times seem the sweet times—the

The new times may be true times on the

But the old times, dear brethren, seem the sweetest times to me!

Time's up for love and laughter—
We drained the banquet cup,
And now the dark comes after.
And lights are out—time's up!

THOMAS BAILEY ALDRICH.
From yonster gilded mine
Beside the steel-blue Nevada set
I faintly catch the gleam of time.
The new, aerial midnight chime
"God save the czar!"

Above the ravellins and the moats
Of the white citadel floats;
And men in dungeons far beneath Listen, and pray, and gnash their teeth—
"God save the czar!"

The soft reiterations sweep
Across the horror of their sleep
As if some demon in his glee Were mocking at their misery—
"God save the czar!"

In his red palace over there, Wakeful, he needs must hear the prayer.
How can it down the broken cries
Wrung from his children's agonies?—
"God save the czar!"

Father they called him from of old—Batuschka!—How his heart is cold!
Wait till a million scourged men Raise their awed, white night, and then

CUPID STOPS COURT GRIND
TO UNITE TWO LOVERS
The happy culmination of a pretty romance took place in the court room of Judge Bloodworth yesterday afternoon.
It all happened this way: Henry F.
Genover, a young man of prepossessing appearance, who has an important position with a well-known local firm stepped into the room and addressed the judge:

"I want to get married," he said.
"Have you a girl to be married to?"
asked the judge, looking at the young man.

"Not with me," answered he who was bent on marriage, "but I can get her."
"Have you a license?" asked the judge.
"No, not with me, but I can get one."
"All right," said Judge Bloodworth,
"go out and get your prospective bride and a license and I'll perform the ceremony."

In about half an hour Henry F.
Genover and Miss Marie V. Wall stepped into the court room. As they did so, it seemed that the cackling noise of the blazing fire was transformed into a hearty peal of laughter, and the grating noise of the traffic outside into a song emanating from myriad throats of happy birds.

They were happy. That was written on every line of their open countenances.
The bride was a pretty brunette dressed in the latest fashion of brown. Everything she smiled, and that was often, the whole room seemed bathed in a flood of light and warmth.

The marriage ceremony was performed, and the couple left, with the judge saying "Happy New Year," the clerk,
"Congratulations," and a lawyer,
"Fourth of July."

Just as they had succeeded in getting down the stairs they encountered the inevitable—
"Don't you write this marriage up," said "for we won't like it."

"No, I don't live here. I just came here from Jacksonville to meet him (pointing to her husband), and we decided to get married. My home is in Maryland, but I met him in Jacksonville, and when he moved here about two months ago we had it arranged if he could not get out and come to me, I was to come to him."

"You see, I kept my promise. Yes, we are making our home for the present in this city, at 85 East Hunter street. I am just as happy as I can be. But don't you write all this in the newspaper."

And the reported promise not to, and he hasn't written all.

GEORGIA TROOPS MUST STAY HOME

Cannot Leave the State Except When Under Orders

Announcement of Policy of the Governor Is Made in Connection with Application of Lincoln Guards, Colored, to Go to Washington.

Under the policy announced by Governor Terrell in connection with his refusal of the application of the Lincoln Guards, colored, for permission to leave the state to attend the inauguration of President Roosevelt, in Washington next month, no Georgia troops will hereafter be permitted to leave the state as such except under express orders.

This means that in future, at least until the policy of the state in this respect is changed, no military company will be permitted to go outside of the state as an organization, unless it is ordered to attend army maneuvers or something of that kind. It is understood that not even encampments outside the state will be permitted in the future.

The reason for this is that on several occasions, when troops have been allowed to leave the state as organizations, and not under orders from the state, things have been done which reflected on the state's military standing and discipline. Governor Terrell does not propose to have this happen again, at least not during his term of office.

In addition to the foregoing, another reason was given for refusing to permit the Lincoln Guards to leave the state, namely, the lack of proper equipment.

Must Stay at Home.
The policy of the military authorities in regard to these matters is stated in the following communication addressed by Adjutant General S. W. Harris to Sandy Lockhart, captain commanding
the Lincoln Guards:

"State of Georgia, Adjutant General's Office, Atlanta, Ga., January 31, 1905.
S. A. Lockhart, Captain Commanding Company E, First Battalion, Infantry,
Georgia State Troops, Colored, Macon,
Ga. Sir: In response to the application of the Lincoln Guards for permission to leave their home station for the purpose of attending the presidential inauguration, on March 4, at Washington City, D. C., I am directed by the governor to state that the request is refused, upon the ground that the company is not properly equipped, and upon the further ground that the policy of permitting troops of the state to go beyond its limits, not under orders, is not approved. While thus beyond the limits of the state, and not under orders, responsibility to the state military authorities for their conduct being at least a question of grave doubt. Respectfully,
S. W. HARRIS,
Adjutant General."

Would Disband Them.
In view of the discussion that has been raised in this connection, it may not come amiss to refer to the recommendation of Colonel William G. O'Neal, inspector general of state troops, to the effect that all of the colored commands in the state service be disbanded, and this recommendation will go before the legislature. Colonel O'Neal's recommendation is made on grounds of inexpediency and inefficiency, as well as on account of the expense which takes away part of the support that might be given the white militia organizations that are of some value.

Vardaman's Telegram.
Governor Terrell had nothing to say yesterday regarding the telegram of Governor Vardaman, of Mississippi, congratulating him upon his action in refusing to permit the Lincoln Guards to leave the state to attend the inauguration day parade in Washington. This telegram, which appeared in yesterday's Constitution, warmly complimented Governor Terrell upon his action in this matter.

Governor Terrell yesterday replied briefly, simply acknowledging receipt of the telegram and thanking Governor Vardaman for his kind expressions.

PREPARE FOR EXTENSION CANNOT LEAVE HOME

Work on Atlantic & Birmingham Extension To Begin.
Two Georgia Pensioners Are in the Penitentiary.

In Railroad Circles Rumors Are Persistent That Road Will Soon Reach Atlanta and Birmingham. W. G. Raoul Returns, but Won't Talk.

There was a well defined rumor in railroad circles yesterday that in a short time the work of actual construction would be begun on the Atlantic and Birmingham extension from the present terminus, Montezuma, on to Atlanta and Birmingham. While this rumor has been stirred before, railroad men stated that they were in possession of facts that warranted the rumor as genuine.

The return of President W. G. Raoul, of the Atlantic and Birmingham, from New York was in part responsible for the circulation of the rumor, and it was evident that two or three of the officials who were seen were in the possession of facts which they considered as absolutely pointing to the extension. They said that to make these facts public at this time would be premature, and might defeat the accomplishment of the present plans.

President Raoul was seen at his office in the Equitable building. When asked regarding the report, President Raoul said:

"I must beg to be excused from making any statement at this time, and, as a matter of fact, the present conditions are such that I could not say anything in the way of an interview."

The report in the railroad circles is to the effect that President Raoul made a deal while he was in New York for the financing of the extension of the road from Montezuma to Birmingham and Atlanta, and this report was still further borne out by a dispatch from New York to the effect that a deal of several millions of dollars had been perfected recently for this same purpose.

The Route Suggested.
As soon as the report had become current yesterday, many of the Atlanta officials immediately got busy building the extension on paper. It was the opinion of the majority that the proposed extension would not be made to Columbus, as formerly believed, but that it would strike through Georgia in a direct line for Birmingham, and that in doing so would cross the Atlanta and West Point tracks at LaGrange. It was thought possible that arrangements would be made between the Atlantic and Birmingham and the West Point route for an entrance into Atlanta until such time as their own tracks could be laid. This would mean a new through route to the sea from Atlanta in a short time, if the extension is pushed forward, as many now believe.

Railroad men believe that when the time comes for the Atlantic and Birmingham route to lay its own tracks to the Gate City it will be through the thickly populated districts of Meriwether and

LEWIS CANNOT GET HIS SALARY

Law Allows Only One Assistant State Entomologist

Enrolling Clerk Made a Mistake and Put Assistant in the Singular Instead of the Plural—Lewis May Be Put on Expense Account.

Because an enrolling clerk made a mistake in preparing for the governor's signature, the amendment to the bill providing for a state board of entomology, and wrote "assistant entomologist," instead of "assistant entomologists," A. C. Lewis, of Texas, who was employed by the state board of entomology as the second assistant, could not yesterday draw his salary from the state treasury.

The amendment to the law creating the department provided for the appointment of assistant entomologists, and it was in this shape that the bill passed both houses of the legislature. The enrolling clerk, however, wrote it in the singular number, and it was in this shape that the governor signed the bill.

The matter was referred to Judge Hart, attorney general, yesterday, and he very promptly held that under the law there could be only one assistant state entomologist. As there was an assistant, R. I. Smith, at the time Mr. Lewis' appointment, the latter appointment was illegal. Mr. Lewis cannot, therefore, draw his salary of $1,000 a year, this being the amount given an assistant.

The matter came up yesterday when Mr. Lewis went to the executive department to get a warrant for his January salary, this being the first month he has worked with the department.

The reason for Judge Hart's view is that it takes not only passage by both houses of the legislature, but also the governor's signature to make a law. In the case in question, therefore, no law on the subject was passed at all, and there can be only one assistant as provided by the old law.

Provision will be made, however, it is understood, to remunerate Mr. Lewis for his services. The entomological department is allowed a certain amount for expenses, which includes clerical assistance, and in this way Mr. Lewis can be paid for his services. He will be retained in this department, and at the coming meeting of the general assembly, an effort will be made to have the error corrected by an amendment. In the meantime Mr. Lewis will draw his salary on expense money.

LET THE WOMEN DO THE WORK.

Too Many Wives Live in Idleness Says Professor.

New York, January 31.—In an address before the League for Education here, Simon N. Patten, professor of social economy of the University of Pennsylvania, has advocated that women shall marry early and when married they shall work in order to have economic independence. Professor Patten deplored the fact that so many married women are in the leisure class. He argued that if the ideal which is held by so many men in regard to the support of their wives is carried on much further it will result in a deterioration of the race and a real danger to society.

In order to carry out this plan of economic independence, Professor Patten stated that the standard of life of the family should never fall below that created by the joint income of husband and wife, and under no condition should the wife think of allowing the burden of her support to fall on her husband until the earning power of the husband has been so enlarged as to admit such action.

"Lack of income," he concluded, "is a reason often advanced against early marriage." While I realize that this kind of a condition offers disadvantage I believe that where both the man and woman seek industrial development they will find time to develop character also."

HELD FOR THROWING BOMB.

Eighteen Men Arrested on Suspicion at Paris.

Paris, January 31.—Eighteen arrests have been made here, in connection with throwing of a bomb at a group of police and republican guards after the meeting of the social revolutionists last night. Twelve of the suspects have been released, and the others are held on suspicion. The two injured republican guards are progressing favorably. The condition of the three wounded civilians is not dangerous.

An analysis made at the municipal laboratory shows that the bomb deposited on the door step of Prince Troubetzkoy, of the Russian embassy, yesterday morning was highly explosive. Special police surveillance has been exercised over the Russian embassy. A police judge has begun the examination of the persons suspected of throwing the bomb last night.

DECIDES RECORDER BROYLES IN THE COURTS.

Number of Unique Cases Found Their Way To Police Court.

An automobile, a chauffeur and a pedestrian figured in a case tried before Judge Calhoun yesterday, the result being a verdict of $175 in favor of the pedestrian and against the chauffeur, who was also the owner of the machine in question.

The parties to this suit were Mary Atwater, an elderly negro woman, and C. H. Johnson, a prominent business man. The issue in the case was whether the automobile ran into Mary Atwater or Mary Atwater ran into the automobile. The jury decided in favor of the former hypothesis.

The collision between the old woman and the machine occurred at the mouth of an alley entering Pryor street, between Decatur street and Edgewood avenue. The plaintiff swore that the automobile ran into her and knocked her down as she was passing the alley. The defense sought to show, on the other hand, that the machine was standing still and that Mary ran violently into it.

The fact was established, however, that Mary Atwater was injured and spent a week or more in the hospital, and Mr. Johnson was assessed $175 to pay for doctors' bills and physical suffering.

The plaintiff was represented by Burton Cloud and Lamar Rucker, and the defendant by C. J. Haden and C. L. Pettigrew.

Courts Adjourn.

This was the last case of the term in the second division of the city court, Judge Calhoun adjourning as soon as the verdict was read in court. This tribunal will not meet again until some time in March, but Judge Calhoun will convene the criminal court of Atlanta for a few days next week, beginning on Monday.

Judge Reid will probably adjourn the first division of the city court some time today. The case of C. E. Schaffner against the Pullman Palace Car Company is now on trial in that court, but will probably be finished today, after which Judge Reid will take a vacation until the first Monday in March. The case on trial involves $300, the value of a diamond said to have gone from Schaffner's possession while he slept on a Pullman car. The plaintiff is represented by Slaton & Phillips and the company by Dorsey, Brewster & Howell.

Central Is Sued.

Mrs. Kate Griggs yesterday brought suit for $35,000 damages against the Central of Georgia railroad. The case is based on the death of her husband, which, it is alleged, was due to negligence on the part of the railroad company.

The deceased, William X. Griggs, was a conductor and, according to the petition, was in charge of a switch engine operating on the line toward East Point on December 10 last. It is alleged that he was given a signal that the track was clear and was moving at a good rate when the engine struck some cars left on the track, and in the collision Griggs sustained fatal injuries. The petition in the case was filed by C. T. Ladson.

For personal injuries, alleged to have been sustained when the engine of which he was driver, was derailed on November 24, William Hart yesterday filed a suit for $5,000 damages against the company just named. He is represented by C. T. Ladson.

C. O. Pitts, in a petition filed yesterday, asks a total divorce from his wife, Georgia Pitts, against whom he charges statutory misconduct. His petition was filed by Lowndes Calhoun.

Ordinary John R. Wilkinson has discovered an unknown friend whose solicitation for the judge's warmth and comfort came near costing the latter 25 cents yesterday. By the morning mail came a letter reading:

"To the Ordinary, Atlanta, Ga.: I would like to know what you pay for good fat pine. Please answer as soon as you get this. Yours truly,

"P. S.—I send a budle by express."

The letter was written on a leaf torn from a pocket notebook, but it served to put the judge on his guard, and when the expressman a little later brought round a bundle, smelling of pine, the judge declined to pay the 25 cents charges. He burns lump coal at his Inman Park mansion.

Loan Deed—Mary L. McLendon to Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., for $5,000, lot on Washington street.

These green medicines, taken together, are the best possible combination for purifying the blood, toning the organs, clearing the complexion, restoring the appetite, building up the whole system.

The statement is confirmed by the experience of thousands every spring. Accept no substitutes for Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills, for no substitutes act like them.

ABOUT CATARRH AND CONSUMPTION

How These Diseases Affect Man and What Is Being Done to Destroy Them.

New Ideas As To the Cure of These Diseases and How to Make This Cure Available.

The weather for the past week has been trying on people who are afflicted with catarrh or any pulmonary disease. Consumptives, perhaps, have had the worst time. The condition of the weather has been such as to induce catarrh and to further the growth of the disease when once inoculated into the system. If the people would only remember that both catarrh and consumption can be cured, they would not thus suffer. The fact that so many medicines have been advertised during the past quarter of a century, claiming to cure both catarrh and consumption, has in a measure lessened the confidence of the people in any cure.

Now, the Bensonizer system of the treatment of catarrh and consumption is somewhat new and radically different from anything ever attempted in the destruction of these awful diseases. Heretofore, it has been said that people have attempted to cure consumption by swallowing patent medicines, and thus millions of dollars, you may say, have been spent in the futile attempt. Professor Benson, the distinguished chemist, has discovered a process and invented an appliance by which these diseases can be cured. This appliance is known as the Bensonizer, and instead of taking medicine into the stomach, the patient, by the use of the Bensonizer, breathes a medicated air into the lungs. He not only takes in oxygen, but takes in medicated oxygen, thus destroying the consumptive germs and restoring vigor and strength to the system. This is a practical, common sense idea, and when applied never fails to accomplish its purpose—to restore the consumptive to life and health.

This is no theory—it is a practically demonstrated fact. Thousands of people in a short time have been restored to health, and if you are suffering with either catarrh or consumption, or have friends who are suffering and would like to be healed, or have them healed, it will be well for you to investigate what is said in this article. No doubt you have been credulous and tried many things, but you have never tried the Bensonizer, and when you do, then you will find yourself benefited by it, and will tell your friends about it. If you wish to investigate the Bensonizer, you may write to the Bensonizer Company, 627 Austell building, Atlanta, Ga. Your letters will be treated strictly confidential and information will be given you.

TELEPHONE MAN LIQUOR AGENT?

Manager of Dublin Exchange Indicted for Phoning Orders.

Dublin, Ga., January 31.—(Special).—Because of the custom which has obtained, of the local telephone company taking orders from patrons and telephoning them to liquor houses in adjoining cities, the manager of the Dublin Telephone and Manufacturing Company has been indicted for an infraction of the liquor laws of Laurens county.

It has heretofore been the custom of the telephone company to write out orders for whiskey. The blanks would then be deposited in the mail box and the fact that orders had been sent telephoned ahead. An order filed by 3 o'clock in the afternoon, could then be filled and the goods delivered in Dublin by 5.30 of the same afternoon. It is estimated that the orders thus sent amounted to something like $100 each day.

For some time there have been rumors that prosecution would follow this practice on the part of the telephone people, but not until the present term of the court, has any effort been made to get an indictment. One of the true bills was found on information furnished by one of the members of the grand jury. It is said that the telephone company got legal advice before commencing taking the orders, and will contest the law making it a misdemeanor to take a whiskey order in a dry county.

The outcome of the case will be watched with much interest. It will be hard fought on both sides, the people here being anxious to stop such a large quantity of whiskey being shipped to Dublin and the telephone people being anxious to continue such a profitable business if it is possible to do so.

It is not known whether the case will be tried this week by Judge Lewis or sent to the city court for trial.

MORE TROUBLE DEVELOPS FOR JACK RUTHERFORD

THE evil spirit seems to pursue the latter day David Harum, disguised under the incognito of Jack Rutherford, who has been starring in a little farce comedy in four acts, three of which have already been performed and two recorded.

In the first act, Rutherford and Will Porter are arrested by Bailiff Wimble on a warrant for cheating and swindling sworn out by Jack Pierce, it being specifically charged that he (Pierce) has been fleeced out of sixty-five of his hard-earned rocks in a shady horse deal.

Monday morning the trial was held. In the second act, the curtain rises on the court room of Judge Landrum. The trial is held, both sides stoutly contesting the truthfulness of their diametrically opposed testimony. Judge Landrum, to settle the matter, orders that the horse be brought out for an official test.

David Harum, ever "up to snuff," has the horse heated up and shot by the court room. The horse appears perfectly sound, but Judge Landrum wants to have his bailiff examine the horse, and yells for the driver to stop.

The driver is disconcerted, tries to turn the horse around, it stops stock still, and Judge Landrum binds Rutherford over to the city criminal court, fixing bond at $100. The curtain drops while the horse is still balking. This seemed still harder on Rutherford, but even worse is yet to come.

The third act occurs after the trial in Judge Landrum's court, when Rutherford, instead of having some one else stand his bond, took $100 out of his own pocket and put it in the hands of Bailiff Wimble.

Rutherford is consequently set free, Pierce, though, is not satisfied, and through his counsel, Morris Mackes, he takes out an attachment on Bailiff Wimble for $65 of the $100 which he alleges was fleeced from him.

This puts David Harum in the following precarious predicament: He has given $100 to appear before Judge Calhoun next week. If he should leave he loses the money, and is still subject to the law. If he is tried and found guilty, his $100 is still tied up in a hard knot in Judge Ormond's court. If he is declared innocent, he will have a large lawyer's fee to pay and his $100 is still tied up in the court.

All in all Jack Rutherford, in his part as David Harum, the horse trader, in the farce comedy of that name, is catching it going and coming, and by the time the show is finished, unless there is a decided turn for the better, there won't be enough left of Dave to tell the tale to Aunt Polly.

Seven Families Reach New Orleans and Describe Conditions.

Handsome Home for Elks.

Huntsville, Ala., January 31.—(Special).—By ballot the Huntsville Elk lodge last night selected a plot of ground to be used as a site for the proposed theater and Elks' home. The site is the New-nan property, on Jefferson street, in the business portion of the city, and cost the lodge about $140 a front foot, the price therefore being $13,500. The lodge is now ready for architects' plans. There are more than two hundred applications for life membership in the order.

Angler-Malone.

THE marriage today of Miss Helen Angler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Angler, to Mr. Edward Frank Malone will be an event of interest and prominence.

The ceremony will take place at 3 o'clock at St. Philip church, Rev. Z. D. Farland officiating.

It will be a yellow wedding, this color to be pretty carried out in the decorations and gowns of the bride and bridesmaids.

Miss Marie Angler sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, and Mr. Harry Alexander best man. The other attendants will be: Miss Harriet Lee Angler, Miss Albert Malone, Miss Florine Richardson, Miss May Waldo, Miss Katherine Parry and Miss Estelle Stewart, bridesmaids; Mr. Richard Palmer, Mr. Edward Austin, Mr. Davis Eley, Mr. Joseph Eley, Mr. Andrew Eastman and Mr. Clarence Angler, Jr., groomsmen. The ushers will be Mr. W. L. Coogrove, Mr. Theodore Hammond, Mr. Milton Dargan, Mr. F. M. Mitchell, Mr. George Dexter, Mr. Edward Peters, Mr. George Crandall and Dr. Frank Holland.

The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents on West Peachtree.

Afternoon Tea.

MISS LILLIAN HARRIS, tea this afternoon at her attractive home in West End will be a pretty complement to her guest Mrs. Paul Hill Irvin, of Washington, Ga., and to Miss Harriet, of Maryland, who is visiting Miss Pauline Wagner.

White and pink will be the colors used and as a complement to Mrs. Irvin the decorative scheme will be similar to that used at her wedding.

The decorations of the table will be particularly lovely. The centerpiece will be of pink carnations and white hydrangeas arranged in the shape of a star in the center of which will be placed a candelabra shaded in pink. The other appointments of the table will be in pink and white, and this combination will be carried out in the lace.

Tea will be served by Mrs. Edward Wilson and Mrs. Fred Wagner, while the punch bowl will be presided over by Miss Nell O'Donnelly and Miss Mildred Harris.

In the receiving line with Miss Harris will be the two guests of honor, while assisting her in the entertainment of the guests will be Mrs. Luther Rosser, Mrs. Evelyn Harris, Miss Pauline Wagner, Mrs. Lillian Harris, Mrs. Julian Harris and Mrs. Charles Kelley. The hostess will wear a dainty gown of pink; Mrs. Irvin's gown will be a beautiful one of white liberty chiffon, trimmed with real lace; and Miss Harriet will wear a gown of pink and white flowered silk. Miss Mildred Harris will be gowned in white, and Miss O'Donnelly will wear a white lace gown.

Mrs. Ridley to Entertain.

MRS. ROBERT RIDLEY will entertain twenty-six guests at a bridge luncheon Thursday morning at her home, on Peachtree, in compliment to Mrs. Benjamin H. Griswold, of Baltimore.

The guests will assemble for bridge at 11 o'clock and at 2 o'clock a buffet luncheon will be served. Mrs. Ridley will be assisted at luncheon by Miss Ruth Hallman, Miss Addie Maude and Miss Mary Kingsbery, while the guests invited to play bridge are Mrs. Norwood Mitchell, Mrs. Griswold, Mrs. Lowry Arnold, Mrs. Harvey Johnson, Mrs. James English, Jr., Mrs. Charles Henry Beckitt, of New York; Mrs. Clarence Knowles, Mrs. Albert Howell, Jr., Mrs. Joseph Moody, Mrs. John Fitten, Mrs. Archibald Davis, Mrs. Dunbar Roy, Mrs. Frank Butt, Mrs. William H. Parsons, Mrs. James McKelvin, Mrs. George Traylor, Mrs. Thomas B. Payne, Mrs. Albert Thornton, Mrs. Louis Gholston, Mrs. Harry Atkinson, Mrs. Ralph Van Landingham, Mrs. Mary J. McConnell, Mrs. Joseph Lamar, Mrs. Arthur Webb Parsons, of New York; Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mrs. George Nicholson, Mrs. J. Frank Meador and Mrs. Edward C. Peters.

To Mrs. Griswold.

MRS. JAMES C. HUNTER has issued invitations to a bridge tea Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, at the Piedmont Driving Club, in compliment to Mrs. Benjamin H. Griswold, of Baltimore, the guest of Mrs. Norwood Mitchell. After the game a number of guests have been invited to tea.

Mrs. Norwood Mitchell entertains at bridge on Monday afternoon, February 3, in compliment to her guest, Wednesday afternoon, February 8, Mrs. Fiening duBignon will entertain at cards in compliment to her. Thursday afternoon of next week Mrs. Ralph Van Landingham will entertain twenty-four guests for Mrs. Griswold, and the same day Mrs. Henry Glover will give a luncheon in her honor.

Fair Sex in Evidence.

THE Nashville American of January 25 describes woman's part in follows:

"Women representing nearly every section of the state were among those in the hall of the house of representatives. They were their best frocks and their newest hats and rich furs. They were witnessing an impressive and dignified public event. The experience was novel to many of them, and it was apparently most satisfactory to all. The committee in charge received them, and distributed them through the house where seats were provided for them.

"As Mrs. James B. Frazier, wife of the executive, entered, she was greeted with bows and many smiles from all the women present, regardless of the matter of personal acquaintance. A low murmur of surprise and admiration over the house, inspired by the appearance of herself and her companions, Mrs. Joseph B. Whitehead, of Atlanta; Miss Sara Frazier, of Chattanooga, Governor Frazier's niece. Lewis M. Coleman, of Chattanooga, was also one of her party. "The governor's children, Miss Louise and Masters Thomas and James B. Frazier, Jr., accompanied by their maid had arrived some time before. The little girl took a lively interest in the preliminary formalities formal notification to the clerk called for a vote, and the little miss piped out a sturdy 'aye' that could be distinctly heard.

"The interest taken by women in the occasion was pleasingly in evidence at the close of the inaugural exercises, when three young ladies from Buford college, Miss Jessie Pickering, of Clarksville; Miss Hatcher, of East Tennessee; and Miss Lillian Adams, representing the western division, stepped to the speaker's stand and presented Governor Frazier with a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair ferns, on behalf of the students of Buford college. The governor, in responding, paid an eloquent tribute to woman, whose presence had been the inspiration of life and history since the days when she stood in the presence of the cross at Calvary."

Euche Party.

YESTERDAY afternoon in her apartment at the Majestic, Mrs. Ralph Van Landingham was the hostess at a pretty card party, given in honor of Miss Constance Knowles and her guest, Miss Beckitt.

The rooms were filled with fragrant pink roses and the lights were shaded in pink. Punch was served all during the game, after which a dainty luncheon was enjoyed. The deck was frozen in the shape of pink baskets and were filled with whipped cream.

The guests invited to meet Miss Knowles and Miss Beckitt were Misses Ada Alexander, Annie Gay, Roline Clark, Marie Broughton, Nita Black, Louise Black, Nan duBignon, May duBignon, Jennie English, Annie Fitten, Ethel Gay, Katherine Gholston, Ruth Hallman, Horstense Horne, Florence Hobbs, Nellie Harris, Nellie Hightower, Florence Jackson, Ethel Kelley, Martha Lambert, Addie Maude, Ethel Mobley, Jennie Mobley, Frances Newman, Mary Nicolson, Nannie Nicolson, Julia Porter, Nan Payne, M. A. Phelan, Sara Peel, Rosine Raoul, Florine Richardson, Kate Robinson, Myrtle Tie.

To Mrs. Parsons.

MOST artistic in every detail was the 5 o'clock tea given yesterday by Mrs. Harry English in compliment to Mrs. Arthur Webb Parsons.

Fifty ladies, including forty of the married and ten of the unmarried set, enjoyed her hospitality so gracefully expressed.

In the drawing room Mrs. English received her guests, standing with her Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. English, Mrs. Edward Inman, while assisting in the entertainment of the guests were Mrs. James D. Robinson, Miss Ruth Hallman, Miss Jennie English, Miss Eugenia Oglesby, Miss Josie Stockell and Mrs. Inman Sanders.

White and violets combined exquisitely in the table decorations, the table having as its centerpiece a basket of violets and white hydrangeas. Its tall handle was wreathed in a garland of fern and violets, and tipped with a full bowl of violet colored tea.

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITOL.

Hon. H. W. Hill, of the state railroad commission, returned to the city yesterday after a two weeks' trip to Cuba where he went for a much needed rest.

Mr. Hill was in Havana during the recent severe cold spell, and the thermometer went down to 50 degrees.

"They said it was the coldest weather they had had in 15 years," Mr. Hill said. "It was pretty cool, I tell you, and my overcoat felt very comfortable. The people there, living as they do in houses not equipped for cold weather, suffered quite a little bit from the change."

Mr. Hill said he made some inquiry regarding passenger rates and freight rates compared to those in this country. He found the passenger rates very much higher, particularly for short distances where they are about double the rates charged in this country, or a little more. The freight rates there are about the same as in the southern states.

The assistant adjutant general of the United States army has given permission for the officers of the heavy artillery battalion in Savannah to attend the sub-caliber practice of the artillery batteries at Fort Screven, which will take place shortly. CENSUS REPORTS ARE FAVORED Putnam Ginnery's Association Is Temporarily Organized.

Easton, Ga., January 31.—(Special).—The Putnam County Ginnery's Association was temporarily organized this morning by electing John T. Dennis chairman, and A. S. Edmondson, secretary. The main purpose of this meeting was to appoint delegates to the convention of state ginnery to be held in Macon, February 8, and its permanent organization was deferred until after the state meeting. R. D. Stubbs and A. S. Edmondson were appointed delegates to the convention at Macon.

The spirit of this morning's meeting manifested a strong sentiment not only favorable to the United States census and ginnery reports, but demanded that they be more accurate and more frequent.

Named by the President.

Washington, January 31.—The senate today in executive session confirmed the following nominations: Postmasters: Louisiana—John Dominique, Bastrop; Jacob Flonaky, Washington; Mississippi—Mary G. Stone, Iuka.

May Stop Horse Racing. Nashville, Tenn., January 31.—The state senate this afternoon passed the bill prohibiting the betting at race tracks in this state. Should the measure pass the lower house it will sound the death knell of horse racing in Tennessee.

Fire Puts Girl in Panic. Camden, N. J., January 31.—Fire in the plant of the Victor Talking Machine Company today caused a loss estimated at $50,000. There were fifty girls in the building when the flames broke out. They became panic stricken, and many fainted, but all were rescued unharmed.

Twenty Below at LaCrosse. La Crosse, Wis., January 31.—What the weather bureau says will be the last extreme cold weather for the winter prevailed at La Crosse and Wisconsin points today. At 8 o'clock the thermometer registered 20 below and was still falling.

MANY COLLEGES SIGN COACHES

Tennessee Is the Latest To Announce Coach for the Season of 1905.

The search for football coaches for the season of 1905 goes merrily on, and each day brings the announcement of a new man signed by some aspiring college.

The list of announcements up to date includes: Georgia—Dickson, of Georgia. Georgia Tech—Heisman, of Pennsylvania.

Auburn—Donahue, of Yale. Vanderbilt—McGugin, of Michigan. Tennessee—Smith, of Pennsylvania. Cumberland—Counselman, of V. P. I.

Sewanee, Nashville, Alabama and the others are still on the lookout. It is more than probable that Blount will again be stationed in Alabama, while Whitney will no longer have charge of the purple team.

The list of positive announcements gives promise of good football for the coming season. All that is needed is for the best teams to meet each other, an unfortunately was not the case last year.

A schedule should be so arranged that Tech would meet Auburn and Sewanee or Vanderbilt, and Vandy should certainly arrange a game with Auburn.

Tech will do her part. It is up to the other two. Heisman is certain to give each a rattling good team, even though a number of his best men leave college.

Dickson, secure in the confidence of his own team, and aided by the support of the student body at Athens, has hopes of a winning team. Smith will do his best for Tennessee, and that he knows football is a certainty. Counselman is trying to make certain a good, strong schedule for his eleven.

Chief Reynolds Sure Franklin Killed Bessie Banton.

Colorado Springs, Colo., January 31.—Chief of Police Reynolds, of this city, who has been on the trail of Milton Franklin, suspected of having murdered Bessie Banton, has returned. He announces that he is convinced of two things, first, that the body found on Cutler mountain is that of Mrs. Bessie Banton, of Syracuse, N. Y., and second, that Milton Franklin Andrews, of Hartford, Conn., is the Milton Franklin, alias George Barnett, who has been responsible for her death. The chief says he will have a warrant issued at once for Franklin's arrest. He says that Franklin is in hiding in New York city, and that he has been traveling with a woman who calls herself his sister.

While in Syracuse Chief Reynolds submitted a sample of the hair of the body of the dead woman to the Kempters, parents of Bessie Banton, and it was identified as having belonged to the missing daughter. The description of the dental work was identified also, and the height, weight and general description of the body tallied exactly with that of Bessie Banton.

Another Appleyard Indicted. Buffalo, N. Y., January 31.—Arthur E. Appleyard, of Boston, has been indicted by the supreme court grand jury on a charge of grand larceny in having obtained from the German bank $50,000 on bonds payable to the bank.

LOCAL MOGULS WILL ORGANIZE

Business Meeting of New Directors Will Be Held Today.

The new owners of the Atlanta Baseball Club will hold a meeting this afternoon to make the necessary arrangements for running the local ball club for the season.

At this meeting directors will be elected and it is probable that the president of the club will also be chosen. Chief W. R. Joyner is scheduled for this position.

A business manager will also be elected. Just who the man will be has not yet been announced. Sealed bids are invited on the refreshment privileges at the park.

Chief W. R. Joyner yesterday received the following congratulatory letter from President Kavanaugh:

"W. R. Joyner, Chief Fire Department, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: I have heard from Mr. Powell that you are to become largely interested in the Atlanta baseball franchise in the Southern League. I want to congratulate you and to welcome you to our association. I feel that it will be a benefit to the old association and to baseball in Atlanta, and I will say further that I do not believe you will ever have any cause to regret it. Atlanta is a good baseball town. Leaving the Sunday games out, it is the best in our league, and with local people to arouse and stimulate the pride of the people of Atlanta in their baseball club, I believe that it will be even a greater success than ever in your city."

"I want you to understand that at any time I can render you any service or assist you in promoting the success of the club I will be only too glad to do so. If you desire at any time that I come to Atlanta to give you any assistance in getting the matter straight, I will be glad to do so."

"I will be glad to see you at any time, and will go over the matter with you as thoroughly as possible."

"With kindest regards, I am, very truly yours,"

"W. M. KAVANAUGH, President."

RESOLVE TO REDUCE ACREAGE. Waverly Hall Farmers Hold Meeting and Pass Resolutions.

Waverly Hall, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—A meeting was held this afternoon of the Waverly Hall branch of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association. D. C. Hendricks was chosen chairman and Dr. George T. Gurr, secretary.

A resolution was offered by Hon. W. H. Luttrell and adopted, as follows: "Resolved, That the acreage of 1904 be reduced 25 per cent for the present year, that the use of commercial fertilizer be curtailed 50 per cent, and all cotton be withheld from the market until a reasonable price is offered for same."

DWYER CLOSES WITH HERRICK

Wrestling Bout Scheduled for February 13 at Athletic Club.

A telegram was received by Professor M. J. Dwyer, wrestling instructor of the Atlanta Athletic Club, yesterday from Frank Herrick, wrestling instructor of the New York Athletic Club, agreeing to come to Atlanta for a wrestling bout.

This match should be one of the best of the entire season and realizing the importance of winning out, Professor Dwyer intends to do some strenuous practice from now on. He will take a good deal of outside work, especially running on the Piedmont track.

The interest in this match is not confined to members of the Atlanta Athletic Club, but is felt by every lover of good sport in the city. The match will be in a sense a contest between New York and Atlanta and this fact alone will draw out the crowds.

The contest will be on the catch-as-catch-can basis, the best two out of three winning the money. Dwyer has agreed to guarantee Herrick $50 for his expenses, the winner to receive all of the receipts of the match.

Both men are about the same weight, both in the neighborhood of 172. Dwyer will cut down this figure to 162 by the day of the match.

The contest will take place at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

BASEBALL TEAM CHARTER. Application Was Filed with Clerk Arnold Broyles Yesterday Morning.

The purchasers of the Atlanta baseball franchise are to become a body corporate as soon as the legal formalities have been complied with and Judge Henry Lumpkin, of the Fulton superior court, affixes his signature to their charter.

The petition for this charter was filed yesterday with Clerk Arnold Broyles, who is himself a noted athlete and firm friend of sport. It was carefully tucked away by him that it may be forthcoming when the proper amount of advertising has been done and the charter is ready for the judicial signature.

The petitioners for the charter are Chief W. R. Joyner, John F. Dickinson and Lowry Arnold, the two other gentlemen who participated in the purchase of the franchise from the old owners, giving their names to the public is concerned. They ask to organize "The Atlanta Baseball Association."

This Association is to be capitalized at $11,500, but the privilege is asked of increasing the amount of stock whenever the stockholders see fit to any figure not greater than $30,000. The proposed period of incorporation is twenty years, and in addition to enjoying the usual rights of corporations, the Atlanta Baseball Association is to have the right to buy and sell real estate, to borrow money and to lease or sell the soda water, cigars, news and other privileges of its baseball grounds.

The petition was filed by Arnold & Arnold, attorneys, this being the firm of which Lowry Arnold, one of the petitioners and franchise owners, is a prominent member.

EUGENE DEMONT IS IN ATLANTA

Will Hold Conference With Chief W. R. Joyner
Today.

Eugene Demontville, captain and manager of the Atlanta baseball team of 1904, arrived in Atlanta yesterday on business.

Demontville has been engaged during the winter in buying up cattle in the interest of one of his friends. He came to Atlanta yesterday on personal business and while here intends to see Chief Joyner in regard to the management of the local club.

"I would like the best in the world to manage the Atlanta club now that I am all has nothing to do with it," said Demontville last night.

"If I came back to this city I would bring my family with me and settle down here. I have always liked Atlanta and would like to make my home here."

"Should I be able to make arrangements to manage the team we would have the same infield we had last season at the finish, would have a good catcher in Shea, and the same men occupying the outfield. Kneifer will most certainly be back with the local club."

"I think we would start off the season with a fish and get a good lead on the other clubs. I will have a conference with Chief Joyner tomorrow in regard to the management."

"I will remain in Atlanta until next Saturday or Sunday."

"In regard to my release I believe that I could obtain it from Mike Pinn. I don't think that Toledo would keep me when they knew that I was dissatisfied and anxious to get away, with a chance of bettering myself. Of course I would have to return the money I got from them."

POOR RESULTS OBTAINED
BY HORSES AND BETTORS

San Francisco, January 31.—The racing at Oakland today was decidedly poor, both in quality of the sport and results of the attempts of the gamblers to pick winners. Port Wayne and Sals saved the bettors from utter defeat.

SARTORI TAKES FIFTY MILE RACE

Driver of Vanderbilt's Car Too
Swift for Others.

World's Record for This Distance Is Lowered by Sartori, His Time Being 40:20, Net—McDonaldald Also Lowers a Few Records.

Ormond, Fla., January 31.—The first race on the programme today, the last day of the Ormond-Daytona meet for 1905, was the 50-mile Daytona handicap. The course was in 10-mile stretches with two-minute controls at each turn, the finish being the club house.

The starters and their handicaps were: R. E. Jarriges, 45-horse power, Charles Canaut, driver, handicap, eight minutes. Standard Automobile Company's 40-horse power, Guy Vaughn, driver, handicap, seven minutes.

Walter Christie's 50-horse power, owner driving, handicap five minutes. W. Gould Brokaw's 60-horse power, M. G. Bernin driver, handicap five minutes. Alfred Vanderbilt's 90-horse power, Saul Sartori driver, handicap four minutes.

B. M. Shanley, Jr., 90-horse power, owner driving, handicap four minutes. William Wallace, 90-horse power, owner driving, handicap three minutes and fifty seconds.

Edward R. Thomas, 90-horse power, owner driving, handicap one minute. Arthur E. McDonald, 90-horse power, and W. H. Fletcher, Jr., O. P. Thomas' 80-horse power, scratch.

The race was won by Sartori in A. G. Vanderbilt's car. Elapsed time 43:30. Net time, 40:20, beating the world's record of 40:45 4-5, made by W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., last year.

B. M. Shanley, Jr., was second. Elapsed time 45:58 4-5. Net time, 41:52 4-5. Canaut third. Net time, 46:25 2-5. The best time was made by W. H. Fletcher in 38:51. He did not win the race, being a scratch man. His time, however, established a new record for 50 miles.

McDonald Makes Record.
The second event was the 20-mile race for the E. R. Thomas trophy, 10 miles straight away with two-minute controls at turn. The starters were B. M. Shanley, Jr.'s car, Fredericks driving; A. G. Vanderbilt's car, Sartori driving; W. H. Thomas' car, Fletcher driving; William Wallace and Arthur F. McDonald.

McDonald won. Time, 15:23 2-5. Second, Wallace. Time, 15:34. Third, Fletcher. Time, 15:38 4-5. The best previous time for 20 miles, 17:2, was made here last year by W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr.

Third event: Final in 10-mile Ormond derby for the Major C. J. Smuller cup. MacDonald, won. Time, 6:15. Thomas, second. Time, 6:18 1-5. Fredericks, in Shanley's car, third. Time, 7:25 2-5.

McDonald's time established a new 10-mile record, beating Thomas' time of 6:31 4-5, made this week, which beat Vanderbilt's record of 6:50, made last year.

Canaut Takes Handicap.
The starters in the 10-mile handicap, with their handicaps, were: M. Roberts, driving Harry S. Houpt's 45-horse power, 3:30; Charles Canaut, 45-horse power, 2:15; Fredericks, in Mr. Shanley's 45-horse power; William Wallace and Fletcher, 10 seconds; Mr. Thomas, five seconds, and MacDonald, scratch. The race was won by Canaut. Time, 8:02 3-5. Roberts, second. Time, 8:54 2-5. Thomas, third. Time, 8:21 2-5.

W. H. Bowden, in an attempt to beat the world's record today, covered a mile in 32 4-5, cutting down his previous records of 34 1-5.

FIREMEN AGAIN IN THE LEAD.
Defeated the Piedmont Athletic Club at the Atlanta Athletic Club Last Night.

In an interesting game of indoor baseball played at the Atlanta Athletic Club last night between the Piedmont Athletics and the Atlanta Firemen, the Firemen were the victors.

By winning this game the fire fighters take the lead in the league, the standing being as follows:

CLUBS— Played. Won. Lost. P. C. Firemen 9 8 1 .389 Athletics 8 7 1 .375 Piedmonts 9 2 7 .222 Soldiers 8 0 8 .000

Firemen . . . 4 0 1 0 0 4 1—11
Piedmonts . . . 1 0 2 0 0 4 1—11

Batteries: Firemen, Short and Latite; Piedmonts, Brown and Shaw.

The Great February Discount Sale

We Shout It:

"We can't all be tailors," as the Prince of Wales said to Poole, so naturally some of us must excel.

The man who leans on us for Clothing is safe—as to expenditure and as to style.

You'd rather have the sketch Charles Dana Gibson dashed off while talking to you than the best picture a novice could make.

You'd rather have any article THAT WE WOULD SELL than the best article to be found in a carelessly-kept shop.

The difference is more than mere reputation. The past-master of men's styles couldn't bring himself to buy poor stuffs even at half price. The ordinary clothier wouldn't know perfect style even if he saw it.

No Goods Charged During the Discount Sale.

During this sale we will sell our good, reliable clothing at liberal reductions. Who stands the loss? Or rather who pockets the difference between our regular and our discount prices? for really nobody loses it. Evidently it goes to you and the explanation is simple. In summer our manufacturing organization must be kept employed on winter stocks. There must be no dull times, shut downs or lay offs in our factory, otherwise we wouldn't be able to keep our skilled tailors together. Now instead of asking you to buy at current prices during February we allow discounts to stimulate business in order to close out all winter goods. The economic consistency of the principle is apparent. Heavy Clothing is distributed in large quantities. That gives opportunity for our people to work all summer. In addition it permits us to begin the following fall with nothing but new, fresh stock.

Our own fine products. Not a garment has been bought or made for this occasion. We've no need to say "the Clothing is up to Eiseman Bros.' standard," it IS Eiseman Bros.' Clothing.

We know perfectly well that this forty-year-old Clothing business has grown and is growing more rapidly and more steadily than any other in Atlanta. And that it has deserved to grow. We know its growth is of the sort to promote more growth. It is for us to maintain standards and to keep the store splendidly seasonable.

Winter Clothing is in demand—will be. Why not jump at the chance to freshen up your wardrobe at cut prices. On our part—it is time to end winter stocks. Take them,

These details are simply a taste from the whole bowlful of bargains.

FITTING VESSEL WITH WIRELESS

City of Columbus Now Being Equipped With Marconi System.

Savannah, Ga., January 31.—(Special).—The steamship City of Columbus, of the Ocean Steamship Company, is being fitted with wireless telegraphy apparatus. Experts in the institution of the wireless system are placing the machinery, motors, dynamos and wires in the vessel, and on its trip to New York tomorrow the boat will be ready for the experiment.

On reaching New York an expert operator in wireless will be engaged and will come back with the City of Columbus on its return to Savannah. Tuesday of next week the vessel will leave the New York wharf and as it passes the station at Hatteras it will send messages. It will also come through the capes of Virginia, sending a message to the station at Cape Henry.

On Sunday the steamship Atlanta will reach Savannah, leaving here Tuesday of next week. During its stay in Savannah it will also be equipped with the wireless system.

CHANGES AMONG THE OFFICERS

Savannah Military Companies Have Several Changes.

Savannah, January 31.—(Special).—More changes among the officers of the local military are now taking place than have been known to occur at one time for years. Company D, of the Guards battalion, has chosen Walter C. Hart, ridge captain to succeed W. G. Austin. Mr. Hart, ridge served as second lieutenant in Company B, of the Second Georgia regiment, during the Spanish-American war. A few days ago he was appointed battalion commissary with rank of first lieutenant. He has not yet received that commission and will decline the appointment to accept the captaincy. The German Volunteers have elected First Lieutenant J. D. Helmken captain in place of C. H. Konemann, resigned. Blues to succeed Captain Clarence G. Anderson. Captain-elect Charles W. Sausay has assumed command of the Oglethorpe Light Infantry, succeeding Robert M. Hitch as captain.

OPPOSE SCHEME TO GET LABOR

Carolinsans Do Not Want Proposed Immigration Bureau.

Raleigh, N. C., January 31.—(Special).—The proposition of United States Senator Simmons to establish at Castle Garden a department for each of the southern states so that the latter may secure immigrants, is meeting with a lot of opposition in North Carolina. The negroes are leaving the state very rapidly, and some labor is needed to replace them, but it is said that what is desired is native labor, unless it might be the very best class of Germans. The authorities were not to have anything to say about the matter, and there has been an effort to establish a state department of immigration, but towards this there is also a strong opposition. Carroll Wright Out of Office. Washington, January 31.—After twenty years' service as a United States commissioner of labor, Carroll D. Wright retired from that office today. He will leave tonight for Worcester, Mass., to assume the presidency of Clark college.

NEGRO ATTACKS AUGUSTA WOMAN

While Tending Graves Mrs.
Percy Spellman Was Attacked.

Augusta, Ga., January 31.—(Special).—While tending the graves of her dead in the city cemetery yesterday, Mrs. Percy Spellman, a respected young white woman, was assaulted by an unknown negro man. The negro sought to stifle the screams of the young woman, but she was able to wrench herself free and cry out. The negro immediately put off into the foliage and was soon lost in the maze of avenues that run in all directions. The assault took place shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning. It is not known whether the police have caught the negro or not. They profess the utmost ignorance in the matter, although it is known that all the detectives and several regular officers, who have been put in plain clothes, assisted by the county authorities, are working hard on the case. Mrs. Spellman is scratched and somewhat bruised, and is also the victim of very severe shock. She is today unable to be out of her room. The negro if caught has been spirited away to either Atlanta or Savannah, or when he is caught will be taken to either of the cities most convenient to the officers. The friends of Mrs. Spellman are very much worked up over the attack and if they find the negro there is no doubt but that violence will be visited on him.

Shot While in Custody.

Nashville, Tenn., January 31.—A negro named Manning was arrested at Dickson, Tenn., today for insulting a white woman, and while in custody of an officer was shot and painfully wounded by Bryant Brown, a white man.

SERIOUS CRIME CHARGED TO BOY

Negro Boy Held for Assault To Murder.

Walter Worthy Crushed Skull of Little White Boy with Brick.
Recorder Said Prisoner Had Abandoned and Malignant Heart.

The unusual scene of a 12-year-old boy being tried for assault with intent to murder, his victim being a child only 6 years of age, was witnessed in the recorder's court yesterday afternoon when Walter Worthy, a negro, was placed on trial for crushing with a brick the skull of little John Rogers Stiles, the son of John W. Stiles, who lives on Baltimore block. When the evidence was all in, Recorder Broyles characterized the negro prisoner as a "boy with an abandoned and malignant heart and a human monstrosity." The stricken child was unable to appear in court. He is out of temporary danger, but the effects of the injury to his head may result in death months and perhaps years from now. That was the testimony of the physician, Dr. J. R. Garner, who operated on the child, removing a portion of the skull.

The father of the little boy was in court and was the first witness to testify. He said his son was seriously injured for life and that he wanted the law to take its course. Walter Painter, a lad about eleven years of age, testified that he, Louie Carroway and John Stiles were at play in a yard making a tent when the Stiles boy was struck with the brick.

Witness Tells the Story.
"I was up in a tree," stated the witness, "and Walter Worthy and another negro boy came along. Walter threw a stone at me but missed me. Then he went into the middle of the street, and, picking up a brick, said: 'I will kill one of those boys.' He threw the brick over the fence and Johnny Stiles was struck on the head. The negroes then ran away."

The negro who was with Walter Worthy testified that he saw the affair, but did not hear Walter say anything about killing the boys. He thought Walter was only playing. The prisoner said he did not mean to hurt any of the boys when he threw the brick, but only wanted to scare them. "Taking the prisoner's statement alone," remarked the recorder, "it shows that Walter Worthy, young as he is, has an abandoned and malignant heart. It isn't often we see a boy so young guilty of such a crime, but sometimes, as in this instance, we find such human monstrosities."

The boy was held in a bond of $500 on the charge of assault with intent to murder.

FOUND CONVICT HIDING AT FORT

One of Escapes Was Soldier at Fort McPherson.

John Hayne, one of the white convicts who escaped from the city stockade Monday morning, was captured yesterday morning at Fort McPherson, where he had gone immediately after getting away from the prison. Hayne is a soldier, and he believed he would be shielded from the police if he once got inside the grounds of the fort.

Hayne was arrested about two weeks ago for selling a young girl in his arms at the corner of Peachtree and Decatur streets. He was fined $50.75 and bound over for assault and battery, the mother of the young girl insisting upon his being prosecuted to the full limit of the law. Monday morning about 1 o'clock Hayne and five other white convicts broke out of the stockade by prizing open a steel bar. The other five convicts are still at large.

Hayne will be arraigned before the recorder for escaping from the city prison, and will be given an extra sentence for that offense.

TO HEAR ORATORS TODAY.

Grant Park Lecture Course Will Be Conducted This Afternoon in the Cyclorama.

The Grant park oratorical contest will be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Cyclorama of the Battle of Atlanta. The orators will speak for ten minutes before the park board, and the winner will be awarded the position of lecturer in the cyclorama.

A number of contestants have entered, and it is probable that some beautiful flights of oratory will be heard at the park. The occasion has been designated "The Grant Park Lecture Course," and will hereafter be held every time there is a vacancy in the office of lecturer. The object of the board is to secure a speaker of ability to explain the picture to visitors.

MRS. W. J. SCOTT IS DEAD.

Widow of Noted Methodist Minister Succumbs After Long Illness.

Mrs. W. J. Scott, the widow of Rev. W. J. Scott, the distinguished minister who died in this city five years ago, after a long illness, died at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence, 418 Piedmont avenue.

Rev. W. J. Scott was the pastor of the First Methodist church in this city for many years, and was one of the most prominent ministers in the southern states in his time. He was well known in literary circles. The author of a number of books of no little merit, and contributor to some of the best magazines in the country. He left behind him the record of a life of usefulness. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Some of the most sensational advances in the Vanderbilt Movement. Closed irregular.

New York, January 31.—There was another day of active and diversified speculation today with various shiftings in its temper. That temper, however, showed a continued alertness to all suggestions or rumors of important developments, and a readiness to rush into the pursuit of excited price movements that indicated clearly enough the predominance of the bullish spirit in the market. There were signs of depression at the outset and the points most acutely affected by this depression did not completely recover their tone at any time during the day. This pressure centered upon Union Pacific, and was evidently in the nature of profit taking on yesterday's buoyant rise. There was some disposition to revise yesterday's estimates of the bearings of the decision in the supreme court as a victory for the Union Pacific interests, whose petition was granted. The necessary consequence in the continued tying up of Northern Securities affairs by injunction was the cause of some discouragement by contrast with the universally favorable view of yesterday. The realizing in Union Pacific did not, however, extend the depression to the Vanderbilts, which have hitherto moved in close sympathy with the Harrimans. The Vanderbilts sprang into great animation and made surprising upshots in their prices, when it became known that the directors of the various companies were assembling. The greatest activity centered in New York Central, owing to the larger market supply of that stock and its rise, though notable, was restrained by comparison with the junior stocks, owing to the same reason. The 25 point rise in Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha was accomplished with the accumulation of only a few 100 share lots, and the 35 point jump in the preferred stocks was on a single transaction. Other advances in the group were in proportion to the scarcity of the floating market supply, due to the closeness with which investments in these high grade stocks are held. Practically every stock in which they were supposed to be Vanderbilt holdings, or which financial or traffic affiliations with them was affected, and it was the common supposition that some important project affecting the prospects of the whole group was on the eve of disclosure. The coincident heaviness in the Pacific and Erie in contrast with recent buoyancy, caused some hesitation in the market, and the general list was tardy in responding to the Vanderbilt movement. The movement in the Vanderbilts seemed to culminate with the announcement of the regular dividend declaration for the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis stock. The hope of an advance in this dividend rate was one of the many suppositions surrounding the movement in the group. The belief that

IN THE NEW SUBDIVISION

On Martin, Connally and Clarke streets we sold 42 lots in the month of January.

The public is just beginning to realize that these lots are worth more than we ask for them.

It will soon be a thing of the past that you can buy a building lot in 15 minutes' walk of the Century building for $300. A few minutes' inquiry into the prices of surrounding lots will convince you that the property we offer is cut to the bargain point for quick sale.

Join the ranks of those who know a good thing when they see it with prices marked in plain figures.

the quarterly statement of United States Steel earnings to be given out during the afternoon would prove favorable, caused a demand for United States Steel preferred and Amalgamated Copper was also strong. The opening dip in prices may have been influenced to some extent by the renewal of attention to the subject of federal control of railroad rates caused by the president's Philadelphia speech, and by reports of a party agreement on a congressional measure. The changes in officials of the Vanderbilt system looking to concentration of operation were not regarded as adequate explanation for the excited movements in the stocks, and there was considerable realizing late in the day. Recoveries at some points made the closing irregular.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $5,450,000. United States bonds were all unchanged. Bar silver 60 1/2c. Mexican dollars 47 1/2c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds irregular.
